More Complimentary Speeches by Mr. Reverdy Johnson.

The steamships Hammonia, from Hamburg Sept. 23 and Southampton Sept. 25, and Java, from Liverpool Sept. 26 and Queenstown Sept. 27, arrived at this port yesterday morning. They bring two days' later news than was on hand by the City of Paris.

The British Medical Journal contains the subjoined statement: "We regret to say that the paragraph in last Saturday's Lancet respecting the health of Her Majesty has very little foundation. The health of the Queen has, we hope, received some benefit from the change of air and scene, and rest from her onerous public duties; but while Her Majesty will continue, as heretofore, to regulate public business, the Queen will not, we fear, be able to bear the fatiguing excitement of a lengthened residence in London, and of the continued receptions attendant on such circumstances."

The Moniteur, Sept. 24, contains the following announcement: "Article 11 of the Cahier des Charges, under which the concession for laying a telegraph cable between France and the United States has been granted to Baron ERLANGER and Mr. JULIUS REUTER, bound the concessionnaires, under penalty of forfeiture, to prove before the 15th of September—first, the legal constitution of the Company to carry out the concession with a capital of 27,500,000f., (£1,100,000;) secondly, the subscription of the total amount of shares corresponding to this capital. These two conditions having been fulfilled, the concession has become definitive."

The Archbishop of Prague was in open opposition to the new liberal Constitution of Austria. In a pastoral letter addressed to the clergy of Bohemia, he declares the law on civil marriage to be null and void, and affirms the State to have no right to abolish an ecclesiastical institution; he threatens with excommunication all who should dare to deny the sacramental character of the union of man and wife.

A letter from Berlin announces that the offer made by Mr. SEWARD to use his good offices for the renewal of friendly relations between Mexico and Prussia has been accepted by the latter, and instructions have accordingly been sent to the Prussian Minister at Washington to enter into preliminary negotiations on the subject.

On Sept. 24 the Pope held a public consistory at the Vatican to confer the cardinal's hat upon Mons. FERRIERI and BARILI, who were created cardinals on the 13th of March. After this ceremony, the consistorial advocate delivered addresses in favor of the beatification of MARIA TURGA. A secret consistory was afterwards held, wherein his holiness confirmed the appointments of several archbishops and bishops.

The Official Journal publishes a letter from the Pope to the Bishops of the Eastern Rite not in communion with the Apostolic See. His Holiness laments the division, and invites the Bishops to the Ecumenical Council, in order to remove the existing differences, and effect a union with Rome.

The difficulty in relation to the arrest of the Greek employe in the United States consulate at Chio, had been settled by the liberation of the man, on the demand of the American Minister at Constantinople.

THE SPANISH REVOLUTION.

Insurrectionary Manifestoes.

TO THE CATALANS.

The following proclamation is addressed to the inhabitants of Catalonia:

CATALANS: I have punctually kept the appointment I have made with you. But even had I made none, I should have come all the same, since the dynasty, regardless of patriotic advice, far from interrupting its career of immorality and hypocrisy, treats the country as an enemy and proclaims war against it. In the war of independence our fathers astonished the world by their heroism. They were rewarded by having to suffer the cruel and grotesque tyranny of FERDINAND VII. In the civil war we lavished our blood to secure our freedom, and throughout Europe there is not one people whose rights have been scouted, whose laws have been trampled upon—there is not a single nation whose wealth has been squandered, whose noblest sons have been proscribed, to the same extent as the Spanish people and the Spanish nation.

To arms Catalans! The nation can no longer endure so much scandal and infamy! To arms! The struggle will be a short one. Every class of society has by turns been insulted and injured in its most sacred interests—all will hasten to defend them, and vindicate their honor and dignity. To arms! But let us pray to heaven that we may not have to use them against our brethren of the army. The Government distrusts the army, and justly so, as it fears, lest faithful to its glorious tradition it should lend an ear to the voice of the gallant chiefs who have so often led it to victory; above all, it fears that the army should not turn a deaf ear to the voice of the country, which in this supreme crisis calls on all her children to make a strenuous effort for her moral and political regeneration.

Until that be achieved, Catalans, we shall deserve, we shall glory in the name of rebel, which tyranny has applied to us as a stigma! Early in this century we were called rebels, when we protested against the ignominious legacy by which an imbecile King left "the nation" to a foreign usurper—a legacy of which a foreign army strove to enforce the execution. We were treated as conquered rebels—rebels we shall remain until victory, avenging our noble ancestors, secures forever our freedom and that of our children.

Then we shall bow to the law which the nation itself may pass—for the nation must decide her own fate by means of universal suffrage, through Cortes which will be called costituyentes—a title which has left glorious memories among us.

Meanwhile, beloved fellow-soldiers, soldiers of freedom, whether you belong to the people or the army, I have nothing to ask of you. I have no rewards to promise those who will flock around me. I won't ask you to be brave; you are but too much so. I won't ask you to be sober, to be patient under hardships, for I shall give you the example of endurance, and you are too noble-hearted not to wish to do as well as I.

I promise you nothing, for you and I serve no person, no family, and cannot receive private offers. We serve the country, which will not recognize the rewards bestowed on those who have fought against her, which will obliterate the list of the salaried minions of the dynasty, will know how to recompense those who cheerfully lay down their lives to vindicate their lost freedom and their tarnished honor.

I declare to the populations that private property and the sacredness of the domestic hearth shall be religiously respected by all under my orders. I hope I shall have no punishment to inflict; but if I have I give you my word it will be exemplary—Viva la nacion Soberana! Vivan los Cortes Costituyentes!

BALDRICH.

TO THE PEOPLE OF MADRID.

The Revolutionary Committee have published the following proclamation to the people of Madrid:

MADRILENES!—The hour so impatiently expected has sounded. Liberty has revived where it was born at the beginning of this century—which is the century of Spanish regeneration. Our valiant seamen, who, on their return to their country, which they defended with so much courage, found it impoverished and enslaved by insolent and despicable mandarins, have, together with our brave soldiers, united with the people. Yes, the people and the army, the whole nation has risen against the tyranny which oppresses us, the immorality which degrades us, the insolence which humiliates us. The inhabitants of Madrid will not be the last to rise, for they know and they abominate the unworthy and dishonoring yoke which oppresses us. But we do not now appeal to your courage; we appeal to your prudence alone; be prepared for the combat, but do not provoke it. Perhaps we shall have no need to fight, because the soldiers in whose midst we live are also liberals, and they are but waiting for the occasion to unite with the people and their brothers in arms. Wait, therefore, for the occasion which is near at hand. The dawn of our triumph, which will be the triumph of right, of justice and of liberty, and not of plunder and burning, as the cowardly enemies of our holy revolution allege, will soon appear. You will prove that you are as virtuous as you are liberal, and that you will punish robbers and incendiaries. In driving from the country those who excite your holy indignation, you will at the same time show that you have all the virtues that belong to nations which love liberty. Meanwhile, check your indignation, and do not even exhibit signs of joy for the triumph of our cause, which is already sure. If the Committee deem it necessary that you should change your peaceful attitude for one of resolve, they will give you timely notice. Wait, therefore, for the signal. We shall not give it by an appeal like the present, for our enemies, or impatient or ill-informed friends may make use of it and produce a crash which we wish to avoid. It will be given to you secretly by tried friends. Distrust all other counsel. Prudence and Union—these are what are required at present.

THE REVOLUTIONARY COMMITTEE OF MADRID.

TO THE ARMY.

The Paris Gaulois publishes the following manifesto to the army:

"OFFICERS AND SOLDIERS—Up to the present time you have fought against the hard exigencies of discipline, because you are not salaried minions—as you call a General more celebrated by his courtezan baseness than by his military actions—but many a Spanish citizen sees with pain that your bayonets serve to prevent the popular indignation bursting forth against a Government which has pillaged the country, which has given up the command of the army to the partisans of absolutism, and which has stolen from us, one after another, the guarantees and liberties conquered at such a great price on the field of battle. But you will betray the country and your oath if you do not respond to the cry of liberty which has been made by the liberal Provinces of Andalusia, and which will very soon be repeated by the whole of the nation.

Our valiant navy, which has given so high an example of courage on the waters of the Pacific, and all the forces of the army in Andalusia, have fraternized with the people. All together, they have raised the standard of social and political regeneration of Spain, which, in the hands of her miserable governors, marches toward the most shameful ruin and degradation.

At their head are to be found the valiant SERRANO, PRIM, DULCE, and several other illustrious generals who are the symbol of the union of the whole Liberal Party.

In such supreme moments what ought you to do? Remain by the side of a Government as much despised as hated? Cross bayonets with your brothers? No. Such conduct would draw down on our country the greatest of calamities—civil war, and you are its defenders, not its hangmen.

The men who oppress, who insult, and cause Spain to blush, are not worthy to be defended by the valiant soldiers of the noble Spanish army. It rests with the Police, the worthy friends of such vile Governments, to support them. They do not merit one drop of Spanish blood. And it will not be shed! What honest man could draw his sword in the defence of what offends all the world, and humiliates and makes us blush?

There is, however, no possible resistance when the patience of a nation so resigned as Spain has been exhausted. We are all Spanish, and we all desire the triumph of justice and liberty.

Officers and soldiers, to-day your courage has no employment, you have no enemies to oppose—all are friends, all are brothers. Your attitude, firm but pacific, will suffice to assure the triumph of a revolution the most holy, the most necessary and the most profitable of which Spain has ever been the scene.

If some regard it with fear, apprehensive that it may be accompanied by lamentable disorders, let them be assured the Spanish army is incapable of committing crimes, or of letting other persons commit them.

Officers and soldiers, Spain blesses your patriotic resolution! Without fighting, without effusion of blood, and without disorders, we are about to accomplish our redemption, and shake off the yoke which has weighed on us so long.

Down with the Government!
Long live the nation!!
Long live national sovereignty!!!"

A Government Proclamation.

The following proclamation is from Marshal CONCHA:

MADRID, Sept. 21.

I hereby make known, that under the very grave circumstances through which the nation is passing, the whole Kingdom having been declared in a state of siege, as I am desirous of conciliating the execution of the law with the respect due from me to legitimate interests and honorable persons, I order as follows: 1. From the publication of this decree there shall not be permitted in the streets or squares groups or assemblies of people, no matter what the number of individuals, and all the agents of authority will prevent such collections with the greatest urbanity, but under the strictest responsibility, so that the stoppages shall be transitory. Every person who resists the orders of the police to move on shall be inexorably arrested and placed at my disposition. 2. At the signal of alarm, which will be a cannon-shot fired at my command, all the inhabitants who do not wish to suffer the consequences of their curiosity or indifference should withdraw to their houses, so as not to be mistakenly treated as enemies by the troops. Men of Madrid! I have always respected all opinions manifested without arms, and I have the right to expect you to pay attention to these dispositions of mine which spring from my duty. In Catalonia I have always restored order when it has been disturbed, and nevertheless I believe I possess the good opinion of that industrious people, because they know how to estimate the force of my obligations. I have a similar mission to fulfill here, and I promise myself a like reception from you, who may be certain that, if public tranquility is disturbed, I shall immediately reëstablish it.

MANUEL GUTIERREZ DE LA CONCHA.

How the Insurrection was Commenced.

From Le Siècle, Sept. 22.

The coup de main at Cadiz was executed with a promptitude and decision which does much honor to Admiral TOPETE. It is he, as we have said, who commanded the iron-plated squadron in the roads off St. Fernando, which is the arsenal and advanced port of Cadiz. It had been previously agreed that as soon as the Generals who were expected from London and the Canary Islands arrived, they should be received on board the ships of the squadron, and that then, being fully prepared to bombard the town, the Admiral should summon the Governor to surrender the city. This is exactly what took place: On the 17th, at the break of day, the four frigates in the port, the Zingaro, the Tetuan, the Ville de Madrid, and Isabella II., wooden ships of the line, prepared for action. The two battalions of marines, forming part of the garrison, supported this movement. One of them took up a position on the Cortoduro, or roadway, which connects the rock of Cadiz with the land; the other battalion occupied the station of the Xeres Railway, and thus made themselves masters of the communication with Seville. It is stated that the Governor, with much indignation, refused to negotiate, but, on observing the state of things around him, he saw plainly that the soldiers were hesitating how to act. Two bombs fired upon the town, one after the other, sufficiently demonstrated the intention of the insurgents, and the Governor yielded. The taking of Cadiz formed only one part of the plan agreed upon between the Generals. The result of the other enterprises to be undertaken in other parts of the territory was awaited with much anxiety. It was very soon learnt that Gen. EZQUIERDO had caused a rising in Seville and nearly the whole of Andalusia; that BALDRICH, having arrived from Paris, had penetrated into Catalonia, and that ARMENTY had entered Aragon by the valley of Aran. As will be seen, there is here an iron circle formed around the monarchy of ISABELLA, and which, if the fates are propitious, will go on contracting in circumference toward the centre until it approaches the throne and destroys it.

First Revolutionary Bulletin.

The Revolutionary Committee's first bulletin reads thus:

SEPT. 19.

We begin, our hearts full of joy, the publication of the bulletin, which will contain an exact account of the progress of our revolution. It began at Cadiz; liberty has resuscitated where it was born. A steamer left Cadiz on the 8th inst. to fetch the Generals exiled at the Canaries. Two days before another steamer sailed from England having on board Gen. PRIM and his staff. PRIM sailed for Cadiz, where our valiant fleet expected him. He summoned on board one of the war ships all the Generals who, with the sailors, uttered the first cry of liberty, which was at once reported at Cadiz and San Fernando. Having taken possession of those important places, our valiant sailors cut the telegraphic communication with the powers at Madrid, but the news of their rising sufficed to rouse to their assistance the population of Seville, with the whole garrison. Malaga, Grenada, Xeres, the whole of Andalusia did the same. All was done without effusion of blood, without obstacle, for there was not to be found a single Spaniard prompted to dishonor himself by fighting for what the whole nation despises. At the time this bulletin leaves the whole fleet will have followed the example of its brothers of Cadiz. The Government, paralyzed by an attack so strong and so unexpected, carefully conceals the sad news it receives from everywhere; but that system will not delay for a single day the triumph of a revolution feared only by the spoliators of the country. The troops at Madrid only wait for a favorable occasion to fraternize with the people and their brothers in arms. Let us also wait for it with full confidence, and with the assurance that not a single drop of blood will soil the streets of Madrid.

Queen Isabella Receives the News.

From the Gazette de France, Sept. 22.

The news reached the Queen at San Sebastian on the evening of the 18th, and was soon spread through the town; the inhabitants were observed to hasten to remove the flags and streamers with which their houses had been decked. On the following day the colors which had hung from the windows were very rare. As soon as Queen ISABELLA was informed of these events she convoked the Ministers in a council, and their deliberations lasted until 4 in the morning. Before the opening of the proceedings the Queen had said to M. GONZALES BRAVO, "In the present circumstances I require a General." That remark was equivalent to asking him to give in his resignation. He understood it as such, and the Ministers appear to have immediately occupied themselves with the choice of their successors. Indeed, at 1 o'clock they sent to the palace for Marshal CONCHA, Marquis de la Havana, on behalf of the Queen, to ask him to form a Cabinet. The General accepted the charge; but on condition that certain persons, especially M. MARFORI, chief major-domo, should be removed from the palace. On the morning of the 19th the Marquis left for Madrid with M. BALDA, who had resigned the Department of Marine. Before his departure the Ministers who retained their portfolios until the new Administration should be formed, decreed the state of siege, and placed the whole Peninsula under martial law.

From L'Opinion Nationale, Sept. 22.

Minister JOSE DE LA CONCHA sent Mr. SALAMANCA to the Queen, to insist upon her returning immediately to Madrid with the Prince of the Asturias, if she wished to save her dynasty. But Mr. SALAMANCA added that it was necessary she should separate herself from MARFORI (the reigning favorite.) Her Majesty is said to have found that condition unacceptable, and to have replied that the Spanish people were a shameful people (pueblo indecente,) and that she was not anxious her son should reign over a nation of robbers and assassins!

Scenes in the Capital.

Madrid (Sept. 21) correspondence of the Daily News.

To a stranger there is nothing in the appearance of Madrid, or its population, to awaken suspicion as to the grave state of political matters. The Puelta del Sol, which I overlook from the room in the hotel where I am writing, is crowded with persons, some lounging about, others standing talking together, quite regardless of the Governor's order, buying newspapers, smoking, sitting round the fountain, in the centre, or reading the Governor's proclamation on the walls. This Puerta del Sol is the great centre of Madrid, from whence all the chief streets diverge. It is an irregular place, of somewhat oval shape, surrounded by large blocks of buildings, principally shops, cafés, hotels and Government offices, of which the largest structure is the Government house, an unsightly, shabby building, with a clock turret, two long rows of windows with green jalousie blinds, the lower portion is just now crammed with soldiers; indeed, the whole city is swarming with military as well as with thousands of Guardias Civiles, an institution somewhat corresponding to our Police, and of which the country for miles around has been robbed to protect Madrid. These men are to be met every minute patrolling the streets in twos and threes. They are a fine set of fellows, superior in appearance to the soldiers. Last night we were awoke by a large force of heavy artillery carriages passing through the Puerta del Sol; but all day the troops have been moved about in every direction. The cafés are crowded, the shops all open, displaying jewelry and other costly articles, as if their proprietors had little apprehension of any danger, though at the same time there is doubtless great uneasiness abroad; and I learned this afternoon, from one of the best sources of information, that the country is in a most critical state.

All yesterday and part of to-day the weather was certainly in favor of the authorities, and unpleasant enough to damp the most revolutionary ardor. The rain poured down in torrents, the wind swept with an almost icy blast through the streets, the damp and coldness of the atmosphere reminded me of London in November. As I looked down on the Puerto del Sol, it looked like a moving mass of umbrellas, and even the weekly bull-fight had to be postponed.

I have been amused by watching the crowds collecting to read the several proclamations of the two Governors who have succeeded each other in two days in New Castile; among them, and also headed "Bando," in large letters, is one from the civil Governor which has nothing to do with politics, but has evidently arisen from the Abergele catastrophe and prohibits the transport of petroleum oil in large quantities. Close to these on the Government House, which is a mass of bills of all sizes and colors, are announcements of excursion trains, theatrical performances, bull-fights, deaths, religious ceremonies, the English watches of Mr. SAVILL, an enterprising Liverpool tradesman now traveling through Spain, and the wonderful cure of his Holiness the Pope by Du Barry's Revalenta Arabica—an advertisement which seems to be conspicuously posted on the walls in every town on the continent.

French Imperial and Popular View of the Situation.

Paris (Sept. 22) Correspondence of the London Times.

The Siècle says: "The Emperor was doubtless one of the first persons informed, for in the official news, at the date of the 19th—that is to say, the very day on which GONZALES BRAVO resigned, we find Gen. DE CASTELNAU paying a visit to Her Most Catholic Majesty. Gen. DE CASTELNAU is Aide-de-Camp to the Emperor, and he went deputed by his master. It could only be a visit of condolence."

About the condolence I can say nothing, but it is true that the Emperor was very early informed of the movement, and perhaps smiled in his sleeve at the preparations making for the interchange of visits which he knew would not come off. One account given, however, is to the effect that already, on the 17th instant, before the insurrection broke out, which occurred only on the 18th, Count EZPELETA, who had been the bearer of an extremely warm letter of thanks from ISABELLA to NAPOLEON for his good reception of Count and Countess GIRGENTI, delivered to his mistress an answer which was far from being what she desired. It is affirmed that the Emperor therein said that he had given the young people the reception they deserved, that it was not worthy the thanks sent, and still less worthy that the Queen should take the trouble she proposed of thanking him in person; but that the members of the Royal family of Spain should be always welcome when they chose to visit the Court of France. No word was added about returning any visit the Queen might pay. If this account be correct, it would seem that the Emperor, while seeming to yield to domestic importunity, did not really intend to have an interview with the Queen. To suppose that he avoided it on the 17th on account of the outbreak at Cadiz, which was to occur on the 18th, would almost be making him an accessory before the fact.

From Le Siècle, Sept. 22.

Where now is Sister PATROCINIO? Of what use has been the fact of the Pope's sending to ISABELLA the golden rose, the emblem of virtue? What! Spain is Catholic; she has 100,000 monks, bishops and priests innumerable, and revolution penetrates there as in heretic countries! The fact is incredible, and the Queen did not at first believe it. But the intelligence arrived more and more alarming, and the reality forced itself to be at last credited. In these supreme moments crowned heads become flexible as reeds. Her Majesty, so haughty and so impetuous, is now softened, and willingly or unwillingly agrees to act. The Ministry must be changed, she is told, and at once she charges Marshal CONCHA to form a new Cabinet. It is in that way that concessions in extremis always commence. The programme of the revolution is perfectly clear; it proclaims the deposition of the Bourbon dynasty, and thus utterly destroys the hopes of DON CARLOS as well as those of the Infanta MARIA LOUISA, good and honest relatives who ardently covet the succession of ISABELLA, and would ask for nothing better than to fish up a Crown out of troubled waters. Afterward, a Provisional Government is to be substituted and a Constituent Assembly convoked, which should decide finally on the destinies of Spain. This scheme is a prudent one; and we hope that all sensible men, all good citizens on the other side of the Pyrenees who love their country will support it. It is the doctrine of the Spanish revolution, of the national sovereignty, and we repeat that if it is not executed to-day, it will be to-morrow. The force of things is what proclaims and wills it, and not we. The Peninsula has two great faults; first, the monks, an intolerant clergy, who carefully cherish ignorance, fanaticism, and the most ridiculous superstitions; second, an unbridled soldiery without any counterpoise. These must absolutely be cured or the patient will die. But nations do not expire without their own consent. As to the Bourbon monarchy, it is struck to the heart, and we sincerely hope that the present movement will rid the Peninsula of it. This first step will be decisive. The principle obstacle will be overthrown. The reaction of which the centre is at Rome had three headquarters—Vienna, Naples and Madrid. The first has burst its bonds, the second threw itself into the arms of GARIBALDI, and the third is now going to emancipate itself from its long slavery.

Concerning French Intervention.

From le Journal des Débats, Sept. 22.

We have been much surprised to see a large number of English papers hastening to protest beforehand against any species of intervention in Spanish affairs. France is the only Power that could possibly interfere. Now, France has too loudly proclaimed the principles of nationalities to think of preventing the Spaniards from choosing such form of government as may please them, or from intrusting to whom they please the difficult task of governing them. We did once forget the respect due to every nation's will, and we had no reason to congratulate ourselves upon having done so. Nobody in France, we are fully persuaded, will conceive the unlucky idea of sending to Spain the soldiers that have only just returned from Mexico.

English Opinions and Hopes.

From the London Times, Sept. 25.

* * * Nothing has at present transpired to make this country feel a personal and selfish interest in this Spanish movement. But our English attitude of non-intervention, even to the extent, as far as practicable, of withholding the intimation of a mere sympathy, would be unchanged, were its ends and aims as manifest as they are now obscure. So far as the interests of this country are concerned, the result most to be deprecated would be the establishment of a weak Government—one inviting domestic intrigues and plots for its overthrow, or the seizure of power under it—a Government which might seek desperately to divert the attacks of the various parties in the country from itself to some external object. But we desire a strong Government, of whatever form, for Spain in the interests of Spain herself. Her Administrations have not given her a fair chance of development for the last century and a half; but at the rare intervals when her rulers have shown a public spirit, the prosperity of the country has ever risen as if by magic. There have even been periods under the present reign—at the time preceding, for instance, the Morocco war—when the Kingdom seemed ready to emerge and resume its natural rank among European Powers. Its untised wealth of material resources is abundantly ascertained. But a race with a history like its, of sturdy resistance at home to foreign oppression, and of stubbornly grasped predominance, at one epoch, abroad, must have, too, a solid national spirit lying somewhere hidden. We believe that this would appear if duly summoned, and when evoked would produce in Europe a different opinion of Spain from any which it has been able to form from the Court of Queen ISABELLA. If the pending revolution only throw this spirit to the surface, there will be little cause to regret the downfall of the Bourbon dynasty.

ENGLAND.

Hon. Reverdy Johnson at Leeds.

From the London Times, Sept. 29.

Yesterday, the Hon. REVERDY JOHNSON, the the new Minister for the United States Government, who has recently arrived in this country, visited the metropolis of the West Riding. He had been staying with Lord HOUGHTON, at Fryston Hall, and Lord and Lady HOUGHTON, Sir A. MONCK, and other distinguished persons, accompanied His Excellency from Fryston Hall to Leeds. They reached that town about 1 o'clock, and were met at the Wellington Station by Sir ANDREW and Lady A. FAIRBAIRN (the Mayor and Mayoress.) Twenty-two gentlemen of the Council of the Leeds Chamber of Commerce were also present to welcome the illustrious American. The Mayor conveyed him in his carriage to the Town Hall, where the Town Council were assembled. Having been introduced to the corporate body and cordially welcomed by them, the Mayor presented an address, to which Mr. JOHNSON replied as follows:

Mr. Mayor and gentlemen—The commission conferred upon me bymy Government will be productive to myself, nod oubt, of that happiness which so far has attended it. From the moment I landed upon your shores up to the present time the greatest possible kindness has been extended to me, very much to my delight and gratification. My country will consider it an earnest of the friendly feelings you have for them that all Her Majesty's subjects, I am glad not only to believe, but to know, entertain toward me so gracious a feeling. [Applause.] We are, in fact, but one people. [Hear, hear.] Our dispositions are the same, our religion is the same, and, above all, as the means by which the others are bound together, our language is the same. [Hear, Hear.] That language, wherever spoken, whether spoken by an Englishman to an American or by an American to an Englishman, creates at once feelings of brotherhood; and, speaking from personal experience, from the moment I put my foot on your shores—not now for the first time—I felt, that, although in one sense I was in a foreign land, I was not a stranger. The shake of the hand reminds me of home; the kindness with which I am met reminds me of home; the personal similarity I see around me reminds me of home; and, above all, your feelings and sentiments of political liberty, which lie so deeply and so firmly as the foundation upon which your Government rests, remind me of home. [Applause.] And I shall ever rejoice that the Government of my own country has conferred upon me the opportunity of becoming more acquainted with the people of England than I could have hoped to be if circumstances had been otherwise. There are but few differences existing now between us; few in my judgment, and unimportant—unimportant, because they can be amicably adjusted—unimportant because that amicable adjustment may be accomplished without tarnishing in the slightest degree the honor of either nation. It would be to me and to my Government a matter of the deepest regret if in the settlement which we are about, I hope, soon to make another Government should suffer in its own opinion, or in that of the world at large. My Government will do nothing to detract from its own reputation, I know; but I know, also, and with as much certainty, that your Government will do nothing which can in the slightest degree tarnish its reputation. Gentlemen, all I can do, in conclusion, is to thank you collectively and individually for this mark of your respect, and to assure you that in my negotiations with your Government, it will be my earnest desire—and I have every reason to believe that desire will be fulfilled—not only to maintain, but to strengthen the friendly relations which have so long happily existed between the two nations. With my best thanks to you, Mr. Mayor, and to all present, I for a time bid you adieu.

Three cheers for the United States were called for by the Mayor and given heartily, after which His Excellency was conducted over the Town Hall and to the Fine Arts Exhibition, where the Executive Committee presented him with an address, in reply to which Mr. JOHNSON again spoke in a friendly strain of compliment.

GEORGIA.

The Ejection of Colored Members From the Legislature—An Appeal to Congress for Redress.

The following memorial, intended for presentation to Congress at the September session, but, owing to the adjournment, not presented, is published in the Washington Chronicle:

To the Congress of the United States:

The undersigned, Republican members of the Legislature of Georgia, duly elected by the suffrages of the legal voters of the State, beg leave to invoke the attention of the Congress to the state of things in Georgia and to the unwarrantable usurpation of the Democratic members of the Legislature of the State.

Your memorialists represent that the Legislature was organized by Major-Gen. G. G. MEADE as Military Commander of the Third Military District, and all persons who had obtained the highest number of votes, and who appeared to be elected, were sworn in and permitted to take their seats; in the number were three persons of color in the Senate and twenty-nine in the House of Representatives. Gen. MEADE, after the organization in the manner above specified, ordered the two Houses to purge themselves by the exclusion of all persons ineligible under the constitutional amendment known as the Fourteenth Amendment. After the appointment and report of committees, both Houses passed resolutions declaring all sitting members eligible, when, in fact, there were a number of persons holding seats in both branches of the Legislature that were and are not eligible under said constitutional amendment. Upon the action of both Houses being certified to Gen. MEADE, he recognized them as finally and fully organized, and permitted them to proceed to business. For a time no assaults were made upon the rights of members who held seats. It was, however, soon discovered that the professions of kindness expressed by Democratic members, when they were on trial, were insincere, and made only for effect, as resolutions were introduced and have been passed in both Houses declaring all the colored members ineligible for no other reason except their color. But the wrong did not stop here. Not only were the colored Representatives and Senators expelled, but their Democratic opponents in the race, who received the next highest vote—many of them received a very small vote, some less than one hundred, and part of them clearly ineligible on account of participating directly or indirectly in the rebellion—have been seated in place of the colored members expelled. Not only has no investigation been made into their eligibility, but one of the Houses expressly refused to investigate the matter.

Now, your memorialists submit to your honorable body that, in case the colored members are and were ineligible, and all who fall within the scope of the prohibition of the Constitutional amendment were excluded, no legal action has been taken upon the constitutional amendment or any other question.

In view of these facts, your memorialists respectfully ask that a court or commission be established by Congress in accordance with the plenary powers given to Congress by said amendment, to inquire into and pass upon the eligibility of such members of the General Assembly, as well as each other officer whose right may be questioned on account of his participation in the rebellion, and that the judgment of said court or commission, when rendered in each case, be final and conclusive as to the right of such person to hold office. After the purgation of the House has been had, your memorialists ask that all persons duly elected to the Legislature, and not ineligible under the constitutional amendment, be allowed to resume their seats and retain them till they are rejected by a fair decision of legal legislation. Your memorialists would further represent to your honorable body that since the acts above communicated, the House of Representatives have passed a law by a large vote denying the colored man the right to sit on the jury in our State.

Your memorialists also respectfully submit to the decision of Congress whether the constitutional amendment has been adopted by the Legislature of Georgia, and whether further legislation is not necessary before the State can legally resume her status as a State in the Union, entitled to all the privileges of a loyal State.

Your memorialists present these facts in behalf of themselves and over six hundred and fifty thousand loyal citizens of Georgia, and trust their appeal will not be in vain.

Marshal Serrano at the Head of Affairs—The Cabinet Incomplete—The People for a Republic.

MADRID, Monday, Oct. 5.

The Provisional Junta has requested Marshal SERRANO to take charge of affairs until the meeting of the Cortes, and he has consented so to act, with Gen. PRIM and OLOZAGO as his colleagues. The formation of the new Cabinet has not yet been completed. Gen. ESCALANTA, a Democrat, has been placed in command of the National Guard. It is daily becoming more and more evident that the great majority of the people are in favor of a republican form of government for Spain. The Duke of Vittoria and the Count of Cheste have declared that they will support the existing Provisional Junta.

The Newmarket Races.

LONDON, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The second October meeting at Newmarket commenced yesterday.

The principal race of the day was a Sweepstakes of 300 sovereigns each, for two-year old fillies, which closed with seven subscribers.

Mr. W. S. CRAWFORD's Heather Bell was the winner, beating Lord GLASGOW's brown filly by Young Melbourne, second, and Mr. MERRY's chestnut filly, by Thormanby, out of Sunflower, third. The betting at the start was thirty to one against Heather Bell, two to one against Lord GLASGOW's filly, and three to one against Mr. MERRY's filly.

In two of the races to-day there was no contest. Lord FALMOUTH's bay filly, Pearlfeather, walked over in the first race, and in the third race, a sweepstakes of 300 sovereigns each, Mr. MERRY's Abstinence also walked over.

ANOTHER LAKE DISASTER.

A Propeller Burned on Lake Ontario—Fourteen Lives Lost.

OSWEGO, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The propeller Perseverance, Capt. JOHN FITZGIBBONS, of the Welland Railway Line, took fire fifteen miles off Pultneyville about 2 o'clock this morning and burned to the water's edge. The fire was first discovered by the engineer, who showed it to the first mate, he being then on watch, and almost before the captain could realize the appalling fact, the propeller was completely enveloped in flames. Two of her boats were on fire before they could be reached, but the third was launched and put off with the two mates, two men and a boy. There were nineteen persons aboard, fourteen of whom, including the Captain, perished in the flames. The propeller Enterprise, of the same line, was about fifteen miles astern of the Perseverance, and she picked up the boat containing the persons above named and arrived with them at this port this afternoon. The Enterprise remained near the burning steamer until daylight, at which time the wreck was still afloat. The Captain's son, who is first mate, is among the saved. The cargo of the Perseverance consisted of 20,147 bushels of corn for T. S. MOTT, of Oswego, and both boat and cargo were insured. The Perseverance was a first-class propeller, and was employed wholly in the grain trade between the Welland Railway and Oswego. This is one of the most heartrending accidents that has ever occurred on Lake Ontario, and has cast a gloom over the whole community. Capt. FITZGIBBONS formerly resided in this city, and was well known and much respected. The following are the names of those lost:

John Fitzgibbons, the Captain; Michael Fitzgibbons, the steward, and son of the Captain; Alexander McArthur, first engineer; Charles Mason, second engineer; Andrew and James Patrick, and Henry Scott, firemen; Dolf Bisnes, wheelsman; four deck hands, with unknown French names, and Mrs. Davis and daughter.

Survivors—Morris Fitzgibbons, first mate, and son of the Captain; William Thorp, second mate; Peter Legho, wheelsman; a deck hand, name unknown, and Patrick Lynch, the porter.

Another Colored Member Turned Out of the Georgia Legislature—Final Adjournment.

ATLANTA, Ga., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

In the Legislature, to-day, the House Committee to examine into the eligibility of BEARD, BELCHER and DAVIS, reported that they, after a full investigation, found BEARD to have in his veins more than one-eighth negro blood. The report was adopted, whereupon a resolution was offered that BEARD be declared ineligible to a seat, which was adopted. A Republican moved to adjourn to reassemble at Milledgeville, which was defeated. The bill to incorporate the "Land and Emigration Company" was passed. After passing bills of a local interest only, the General Assembly adjourned sine die.

The Speaker of the House said:

We meet as strangers, personally; politically our feelings were embittered by the extraordinary teachings of [illegible]. We separate to-day almost as one people in sentiment and common interests. Listen not to the teachings of the political slanderer. This is our Government; let us correct the evils that may exist by appealing to the intelligence and wisdom of the nation, and not to the passions of the mob. Let our motto be "Wisdom, Justice and Moderation," and all will be well.

The Assembly will reassemble in January.

Gen. MEADE reviewed the garrison at this city today, comprising eleven companies of infantry, several of cavalry, and two of artillery.

CONNECTICUT.

Further Returns of the Town Elections—Large Republican Gains Throughout the State.

HARTFORD, Conn., Tuesday Oct. 6.

Returns from about two-thirds of the State, show large Republican gains in the popular vote.

The Republicans have lost one town, but gained three, and two are divided.

Official returns from 149 towns foot up as follows: Republican, 83; Democratic, 59; divided 6. Of these the Republicans gain 10, and the Democrats 3, from last year. Of the towns that were wholly Republican last year, 1 is divided this year. Of those which were wholly Democratic, 5 are divided. Granby gives 24 Republican gain; Simsbury, 43; Farmington, 85; Enfield, 25; Huntington, 15; Bethel, 18; Ridgefield, 29; Killingly, 250. Many other towns show proportionate Republican gains. There are 13 towns yet to hear from.

Attack on the Apaches and Sipans in Texas—Stolen Property Recovered—The War on the Plains.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Brevet Major-Gen. MERRITT, Ninth Cavalry, commanding at Fort Davis, Texas, under date of Sept. 15, reports that Lieut CUSACK, of the Ninth Cavalry, who was sent from Fort Davis with a detachment of sixty men from Companies C, F and K, of his regiment, and a volunteer party of Mexicans, to recapture the stock recently stolen by Indians from a train near Fort Stockton, overtook the Indians (Apaches, some 200 strong,) about eighty miles east of Fort Davis, attacked them and killed in a running fight extending over five miles, between twenty and thirty of them, and wounded at least as many more, and took from them all their stock, over 200 head of mules and horses, besides some few cattle, destroyed the entire camp, including their Winter store of meats, berries, &c., and recaptured two Mexican boys who had been in captivity some four or five years. The loss to Lieut. CUSACK's command was two soldiers, severely, though not dangerously, wounded, and two horses. Some Government stock was stolen from Fort Lancaster and other points by the Indians. Among that captured is some of the mail stock, lost a short time since at the Nuvesto. A large quantity of skins, robes and other plunder was taken. Great credit is due Lieut. CUSACK for the able manner in which he conducted the expedition. He marched almost the entire distance by night, lying by in the day in order to surprise the Indians, which he succeeded in doing. He speaks highly of the good conduct of his men, and makes special mention of the Diggenweddie citizens, Volunteer and Vigilant Gunner Company C, Ninth Cavalry and other enlisted men, for conspicuous gallantry during the fight. The Indians were Apaches and Sipans, under ARSAENTO, who has the reputation of being a desperate fellow, and never at peace, either here or in Mexico.

A telegram to the Indian Office, dated at Chison, Kansas, Oct. 6, from the Clerk of the Central Superintendency, says: "Gen. HAZEN writes from Fort Larned that the Kiowas and Comanches, who were upon the Arkansas River, have, without doubt, joined the Cheyennes and Arapahoes in the war." Superintendent MURPHY is at Council Grove.

The Mission of Col. Smoot to the Choctaw and Chickasaw Indians.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Col. S. S. SMOOT, Special Indian Agent, arrived here to-day from the Choctaw and Chickasaw country, eight days from Fort Gibson in the Cherokee Nation, whither he went by direction of the Secretary of the Interior for the purpose of paying to those tribes $260,000 due them as loyal Indians for property destroyed during the rebellion and appropriated by Congress in July last out of Choctaw and Chickasaw funds. Col. SMOOT was escorted from Leavenworth to the Indian Territory by a squad of United States soldiers. This was rendered necessary on account of the large sum of money in his possession. The reason for sending a special agent to pay over this amount was because of a provision in the law requiring it to be paid to claimants in person, and not through attorneys or assignees. Col. SMOOT had an interview to-day with Secretary BROWNING and acting Commissioner MIX on the subject of his mission.

THE AMERICAN BOARD.

Anniversary of the Commissioners of Foreign Missions at Norwich, Conn.—Proceedings of the First Day.

NORWICH, Conn., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The fifty-ninth anniversary meeting of the American Board of Commissioners of Foreign Missions commenced at the Broadway Church in this city this afternoon. A number of the members were present, and it is believed that 2,000 are present in the city and vicinity, quartered in private residences and public buildings. The church was well filled at 3 o'clock, when the venerable President, MARK HOPKINS, D. D., of Williamstown, Mass., called the meeting to order. Prayer was offered by Rev. Dr. HICKOX, Sr. SIMON J. HUMPHREY, of Chicago, was appointed Assistant Recording Secretary. The minutes of the last annual meeting were then read by the Recording Secretary Rev. JOHN O. MEANS, of Roxbury, Mass. The President then appointed a committee to nominate committees.

Rev. SELAH B. TREAT, of Boston, Corresponding Secretary of the Home Department, read the annual report. The report contains obituary notices of six corporate members of the Board who had died since the last meeting—WILLIAM ALLEN, D. D., elected in 1820; WILLIAM R. DEWITT, D. D., elected in 1838; WILLIAM JESSUP, LL.D., elected in 1840, and for seven years Vice-President of the Board; REUBEN H. WALWORTH, LL.D., elected in 1840; JOEL H. LINSLEY, D. D., elected in 1843; SIMON BENJAMIN, Esq., elected in 1843. The report also contains a detailed report of Missionaries sent out and the financial history of the year. The Secretary also gave a statement comparing the donations of the past year with those of 1867, and the per cent. gained in 1868 over the previous year, as follows: Maine, twenty-seven per cent.; New-Hampshire, thirty per cent.; Vermont, thirty-six per cent.; Massachusetts, thirty-four per cent.; Rhode Island, twenty-four per cent.; Connecticut, twenty-one per cent.; New-York, twenty-two per cent.; New-Jersey, eighty-six per cent.; Pennsylvania, twenty-six per cent.; Ohio, thirty-seven per cent.; Illinois, thirty-eight per cent.; Michigan, nineteen per cent.; Minnesota, thirty per cent.; Iowa, ninety-seven per cent.; Wisconsin, twenty-one per cent.

The report of the Treasurer shows the entire income of the year, as follows: From donations, $453,260 77; from legacies, $73,903 44; from other sources, $8,674 74; total, $535,838 95—the largest sum ever reported to any annual meeting of the Board. The expenditures were $530,885 65. The year opened with a balance of $4,432 44 against the treasury, and closed with a balance of $520 96 in favor.

Late afternoon and evening trains brought large accessions to the number of members of the Board, and the city is now overflowing with clergymen, who tax the hospitality of citizens to the fullest extent.

The church was crowded in the evening. Rev. H. A. NELSON, D. D., of Cincinnati, preached the annual sermon from John xii, 32. The discourse was able, and commanded the earnest attention of the auditory.

The Board will hold three business sessions to-morrow, and evening devotional meetings; also a mothers' meeting at 9:30 o'clock A. M., and a children's meeting at 3 o'clock P. M., at which Rev. Mr. JESSUP, of Syria, and other missionaries, will speak.

The Western New-York Dental Association.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The sixth annual Convention of the Western New-York Dental Association commenced at this city this morning, Mr. L. J. WALTER, of Lockport, President. The reports of the Secretary of the Treasury and the Historical Committee, were read and referred. Resolutions of condolence with the family of the late Dr. W. G. OLIVER, of Buffalo, were adopted. The following officers for the ensuing year were elected: Dr. FRANK FRENCH, of Rochester, President: Dr. G. C. DABOLL, of Buffalo, Vice-President; Dr. W. C. BURRETT, of Warren, Secretary; and H. B. DORLETTEN, of Albion, Treasurer. Dr. WALTER, the retiring President, read an address. Dr. HAYS, of Buffalo, exhibited a specimen of rose-pearl, a new substitute for artificial teeth. Essays were read by Dr. D. T. WHITNEY, of Buffalo, and Dr. G. R. SWANN, of Buffalo, on technical subjects. The Eighth District Dental Convention met to-night and adopted a constitution and by-laws.

The Reception of Gen. McClellan in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The programme of Gen. MCCLELLAN's reception in this city announces that the procession will consist of seven divisions, as follows: Mounted cavalcade; guard of honor; soldiers' and sailors' organizations from distant States and the State of Pennsylvania, outside of Philadelphia; soldiers and sailors of Philadelphia; Fire Department; civic clubs; citizens generally.

The Reception Committee is composed of eighteen Generals. The following is an extract from the programme: "As this reception is tendered to their old Commander by his surviving comrades, no political devices, inscriptions or emblems will be permitted in the line."

The Pennsylvania Central, Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore, Camden and Amboy, North Pennsylvania, Philadelphia and Reading, West Chester and Media Railroad Companies have agreed to transport soldiers' and sailors' organizations to and from Philadelphia for the reception on Thursday at excursion rates. Tickets of the 7th and 8th of October, good to return on the 9th, are to be supplied at the rates paid by the soldiers and sailors who attended the Convention of the 1st inst.

Gen. MCCLELLAN will arrive at the north end of Broad-street in the train due here at 1:40 P. M. Thursday. He will then be escorted from the point where the connecting railroad crosses Broad-street, down the latter street to Chestnut, and thence to Independence Hall.

Escape of Convicts in Virginia—The Richmond City "Small Notes."

RICHMOND, Va., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

To-day, as forty negro penitentiary convicts, hired out to work on the Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad, were going on the Central Railroad to Covington, they overpowered the guard four miles beyond Gordonsville, and twenty-four of them leaped off while the train was going at full speed. Two were instantly killed and three others badly wounded. The others who leaped off escaped.

P. R. GRATTAN, the official attorney, to-day gave an opinion to the City Council that the city small notes issued during the war, amounting to a quarter of a million dollars, cannot be paid while the Alexandria Constitution is in force, as it forbids paying any debt incurred to carry on the war.

JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, of Massachusetts, arrived here to-day, on his way to South Carolina.

Robbery in St. Louis—Preservation of the Peace at Political Gatherings.

ST. LOUIS, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

ALEXANDER CREED, of Parkersburg, W. Va., while asleep in the parlor of the Planters' House today, was robbed of $500 in greenbacks and $47,000 in notes.

In view of the political demonstrations which will take place this week and the possibility of a disturbance, Mayor THOMAS publishes a card reciting the Riot act, stating that he shall be present at all meetings, and is determined to enforce the law, without regard to person, politics, religion, nationality or color.

The Reno-Anderson Case in Toronto.

TORONTO, Canada, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

In the Reno-Anderson case to-day the Chief-Justice delivered a very lengthy judgment, deciding in favor of the Crown and the prosecution upon all the points raised, and formally committing the prisoners to jail, to await the warrant of the Governor-General for their extradition. The express thieves, S. S. MORTON and C. E. THOMPSON, were rearrested this afternoon. They will be taken to Sandwich to-night, and be brought before Magistrate MCMICKEN.

The Pacific Coast—Aid for the Peruvian Sufferers.

SAN FRANCISCO, Monday, Oct. 5.

The opposition steamer Oregonian sailed for Panama to-day, with 190 tons of flour, for New-York.

The Committee appointed to solicit aid for the Peruvian sufferers report that they have collected $13,000 thus far. The Committee will remit $10,000 to the American Consul at Lima by to-morrow's steamer.

Arrival of Gen. Gordon Granger in Memphis.

MEMPHIS, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Gen. GORDON GRANGER arrived last night, and will establish the headquarters of the Department of the Cumberland in this city.

Election Bills Passed by the Alabama Legislature.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The Governor has signed the Registration bill which was passed by the Legislature. Both Houses have passed bills providing for an election.

By the Senate bill it is provided that the Probate Judge of each county shall designate any number of voting places he desires. This is done to have all the voting at the Court-house. The Democrats strongly oppose the Registration and Election bills.

Card From Mr. George D. Prentice

LOUISVILLE, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

GEORGE D. PRENTICE publishes a card in the Louisville Journal, in which he says his newspaper friends have fallen into a serious error regarding him, and doing others injustice on his account. He says he is not poor and broken down; and that his personal relations with every one of his associates are perfectly kind. Every issue of the Journal for the past two weeks has contained matter of his, and it is his purpose, God willing, to live and work the rest of the century.

Visit of Utica Firemen to Auburn, N. Y.

AUBURN, N. Y., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The firemen of Utica visited this city to-day. At a trial between the Utica steam fire-engine and the Auburn water-works, (HOLLY's patent,) the steamer was out distanced by fifteen feet. Three streams from the hydrant were on, and the volume of water from them was one-third greater than the steamer's. The water-works were two miles distant from the hydrants, with no intermediate powers. CARLOS HOLLY and WILLIAM C. WEIR, the contracting engineers, were present, with the Common Council, giving their attention to the working of the water-works machinery.

He accomplished his first 20 miles in 4 hours 6½ minutes, and his second 20 miles in 4 hours 27 minutes, including 18 minutes for resting. He left on his third trip at 11:34 P. M. He is not at all fatigued, and feels confident of success.

RUTLAND, Vt., Oct. 6.—THRALL's building on Main-street, in this place, was destroyed by fire this morning. The loss is unknown.

PROTESTANT EPISCOPAL CHURCH

The Triennial Convention—Opening Services To-day—List of Members.

The General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church meets at Trinity Church at 10 A. M. to-day, when the opening religious services will be held. The following are the arrangements for the first day of the session: The doors will be open at 9 A. M. The Bishops, to the number of forty-two, will assemble in the robing room, and enter the chancel by the north door. The clerical and lay delegates, numbering nearly one hundred and fifty, will occupy pews reserved for them at the head of the nave. They will be admitted by the main door on presenting their cards. A Committee of Arrangements will be in attendance to receive the Bishops and deputies.

The clergy generally, the lay members of the Boards of Missions and other church institutions, and the vestry of Trinity Church, on presenting their cards at the main door, will be admitted to seats in the nave behind the deputies. The families of the Bishops and deputies, and of the vestry of Trinity Church, will be admitted to the south aisle on presenting their cards at the south porch. The north aisle will be open to the public. The singing will be by a full choir. The sermon will be delivered by Bishop LEE, of Delaware.

At the close of the regular religious services the secretaries and standing committees will be appointed by Bishop SMITH, of Kentucky, the presiding officer, when the Convention will adjourn to meet at Trinity Chapel in Twenty-fifth-street, to-morrow morning.

For the first time since 1859 delegates will be present from the Southern States. There will be forty Bishops present, Bishop SMITH, of Kentucky, presiding. Every diocese is entitled to four clerical and four lay delegates; and every diocese in the United States will be represented. On Thursday evening the triennial sermon before the Board of Missions will be preached in Calvary Church by Bishop J. W. BECKWITH, of Georgia. The business meetings of the Board of Missions will be held in the Church of the Transfiguration, Twenty-ninth-street, commencing Friday evening. Among the matters of greatest interest that will come before the General Convention will be the Tyng case, in regard to which an appeal is taken to the Convention, as the court of last resort, by Mr. TYNG. A memorial will probably be presented by Mr. TYNG, taking exception to the rulings in his case. It is anticipated by many in the Church that the judgment against him will be speedily reaffirmed, while others declare that it will be reversed.

The application of the Diocese of New-York for a canon authorizing the appointment of Federate Councils, will be approved probably.

There will probably be an authoritative declaration of the House of Bishops with regard to Ritualism, setting forth what forms the rubric and the canons of the Church allow in the celebration of divine service. Ground will be taken against processionals, colored vestments, incense, &c., but an ample margin will be left for the exercise of sound individual discretion.

The consent of the Convention for the erection of the new Long Island and Northern New-York Dioceses; also for a diocese in Western New-York, will be granted.

A Missionary Bishop of Oregon will be elected. Rev. WM. H. STORY, of Portland, and Rev. Dr. GEO. F. SEYMOUR, of this City, are talked of for the position. The consecration of the Bishop elect of Missouri, Rev. CHARLES N. ROBERTSON, D. D., will take place during the Convention.

The movement for a Union of the Methodist Episcopal Church with the Protestant Episcopal Church will doubtless come before the Convention for consideration also. Missionary services will be held in most of the Episcopal Churches of New-York and vicinity on Sunday evenings, Oct. 11 and 18, 1868. On Tuesday evening, Oct. 13, a Missionary Meeting will be held in the Academy of Music, Fourteenth-street, near Fourth-avenue. The building will hold three thousand persons, and will, we think, be filled. Besides speakers, whom more will be glad to hear than can have the opportunity, some 200 of the trained singers of the various choirs and musical associations of the city, and forty instrumental artists, from the renowned Philharmonic Society, have been secured, to give such portions of the Oratorio of the "Messiah" as are deemed suitable for such an occasion, and to assist in giving effective utterance to some of our familiar, old missionary hymns. Admission can be secured only by tickets, which will be ready for gratuitous distribution, on and after Oct. 7, at the Mission Rooms, Nos. 17, 19 and 10 Bible House; the Church Book-store, No. 762 Broadway; POTT & AMERY'S, Nos. 5 and 13 Cooper Union; and will also be forwarded to those Rectors who may desire them for themselves and their people. Addresses will be delivered by Rt. Rev. D. S. TUTTLE, D. D., Missionary Bishop of Montana, Idaho, and Utah; Rev. Drs. CARVER, of Chicago; PADDOCK, of Detroit, and others.

The Alleged Revenue Frauds.

An examination of the charges of fraud against Commissioner ROLLINS, and Messrs. HARLAND and SMITH, was resumed yesterday, at noon, before Commissioner GUTTMAN.

Mr. Tracy, District-Attorney of the Eastern District, on being examined by Mr. SEDGWICK, said that in July, 1867, two gentlemen called upon him while he was sick and informed him of the Pike's distillery matter; on his recovery, he found the case still pending in the Revenue Board; Mr. Hardy reported a deficit of tax amounting to over $9,000; the distillery was subsequently again seized by E. B. Rollins for insufficiency of bonds before the $9,000 were paid; witness investigated the charge, and found that the law was misunderstood by both Wellman and Rollins; it remained unadjusted until Mr. Parnell succeeded to the Revenue Board; on investigation, he found no grounds for a seizure by Mr. Rollins, and considered that the property should be returned on payment of the $9,000. The property was returned therefore by witness. The seizures were made on the 25th of July, 1867, under the impression that the establishment was owned entirely by one man. It was returned by Mr. HARLAND, and subsequently seized for another fraud, and remains yet in custody of the law.

In reply to District-Attorney COURTNEY, witness said the first complaint against the tobacco factory was made about the 20th of July, 1867. It was seized on complaint of Mr. LOTTINGER. The complaints came to his office. The seizure involved a question of law.

Mr. Joshua F. Baily, Collector of the Fourth District, said that Pike's distillery was seized by his direction in October, 1867. In December he went to Washington to consult the Revenue Department in regard to the case. The Commissioner went with him to the office of the Secretary of the Treasury, where it was decided that all the spirit under seizure was paid for at $2 a gallon, and the machinery and property assessed and paid for accordingly. The market value of spirits at that time was $1 25 to $1 40 a gallon. An actual sale would therefore have brought a much less sum than that realized; Mr. Harland took no part in this matter.

BY MR. COURTNEY—Witness kept the goods in close custody until the libel was filed and the case turned over to the Court; the ground of seizure was the reception of spirits from distillers without the tax being paid.

George H. Farrel, a clerk at Willard's Hotel, in Washington, on being examined by Mr. Sedgwick, said that about May 23 Senator Pierson occupied Rooms Nos. 50 and 52, on the second floor, at that hotel; Mr. Charles Loeb arrived there May 26, and was assigned Room No. 109, on the third floor. The witness described the apartment of Mr. Loeb. This description showed the testimony of McHenry to be false in regard to the alleged interview between Senator Pierson and Mr. Loeb.

Mr. Edward H. Flavin, of Brooklyn, on being sworn, said that he considered McHenry a man of bad character, and would not believe him under oath; he knew him only by reputation, having heard Mr. Allen and Mr. Knight speak of him very unfavorably.

George D. Weeks and Robert J. Weins also testified to the bad character of McHenry, as far as known to them.

Mr. Samuel N. Pike was then examined: His distillery, he said, was on Fourteenth-street; he saw Mr. Harland twice in February, 1867, and had not seen him since; he at no time gave him a check for $10,500, as asserted by McHenry, or for any other amount; he kept the bank account of his firm at the Merchants' Exchange Bank, and never had a private account; checks were always drawn in the name of S. N. Pike & Co.

A cross-examination by Mr. COURTNEY elicited the same testimony.

Mr. Courtney then proposed examining certain witnesses of McHenry, whom he had suborned to testify as to his good character. Though this would have no effect upon the case, the Court allowed it, and adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning for the purpose.

Death of a Prominent Produce Merchant

Mr. EDWARD HAYDOCK WHITE, a well-known merchant of this City, died at his residence, No. 74 Fifth-avenue, on Sunday evening, Oct. 4, in the fifty-fifth year of his age.

He had been from early manhood intimately identified with the Produce trade of the port. He was one of the original members of the Old Corn Exchange Association, corner of Broad and South streets. In later years, when the Corn Exchange was abandoned for the Produce Exchange, Mr. WHITE also became prominent as a member of the new commercial organization. For a year or two prior to his death, he was practically out of business, his failing health debarring him from any participation in active pursuits.

Mr. WHITE was a gentleman of good education and extensive reading. He owned an admirable private library, especially strong in its representation of the history and literature of all manly sports, such as yachting, hunting, racing, and the like.

In the religious relation, he belonged to the Society of Friends.

His funeral is to take place from his late residence at 3:30 P. M. to-day, (Wednesday.)

COURT OF APPEALS.

Before Hunt, Chief Justice, and a full Bench.

DISCHARGE OF ATTACHMENT ON PROVIDING FOR AN APPEALED JUDGMENT.

Hiram Wright, Administrator, &c. vs. Mary A. Rowland.—The daughter of C. N. S. Rowland was sued by his administrator for some $9,000 of assets of the estate, collected by her, and an attachment was levied on the property in her possession. The Referee found that in this action but $528 72 could be recovered, and the plaintiff, claiming to be entitled to the full amount, appealed.

Pending that appeal the defendant, on an affidavit that the amount recovered was only $528 72, moved that the attachment be discharged on the execution of an undertaking for $1,500. The motion was denied; but, on appeal, the General Term directed that the attachment be discharged, without security, on payment within five days of the amount recovered before the Referee, and from this order the plaintiff in turn appealed.

The argument of the plaintiff is that an attachment is levied and held as security for any judgment that may be recovered in the action; that such judgment is the final determination of the controversy between the parties, after all appeals are exhausted, and not a judgment still in dispute; that though the latter is final in respect to the subject in dispute, and as evidence of res adjudicata, it is not so as between the parties litigant, since a further judgment may be had which the property is to be held to answer.

The defendant respondent argues that the final judgment meant by the Code is the judgment of the Court below; that it is the termination of one action, the appeal being in effect a new action; that as a provisional remedy it is necessarily affected by the judgment; that if judgment had been for the defendant, the attachment would have fallen with it; that the presumption is that the judgment of the Court is correct and it would be great hardship, differing in degree only from a detention under arrest, to keep the property in the face of such a presumption tied up by attachment through a tedious appeal. Decision reversed.

POWERS OF REFEREES—REGULARITY OF FORECLOSURE SALES.

Leman B. Hotchkiss et al. vs. the Clifton Air Cure.—This was a foreclosure suit, and under it a decree of sale by a referee was made, the amount due being $16,229 09 besides costs. At the time there was a prior mortgage on the property for $2,500 which was not mentioned in the complaint or decree. On the sale, one Warner bid $16,500. At the suggestion of the plaintiff's attorney, the referee then offered the premises clear of prior incumbrances, when the same parties bid $20,000. There was left after paying the two mortgages, about $817. The defendant now insists on appeal, the General Term below having decided against it, that the referee acted without authority in giving notice that he would pay the prior mortgage, and as it is claimed the evidence shows the plaintiff to have been one of the real purchasers, he must have known of this lack of authority, and at any rate, the purchasers not having sought to repudiate it on the ground of mistake or misrepresentation when it was called to their attention, must now pay up the whole amount of their bid and assume the mortgage. That to allow the sale to stand on the referee's terms would be to authorize referees to disregard the instructions of the Court, and leave parties interested in the surplus without protection.

The purchasers reply that the new terms and bid under them was a net gain of about $1,000 to the defendant, and therefore he has no equity, and that the defendant's remedy was one he did not seek, viz.: to reopen the sale as irregular or on the ground of mistake. He not having taken that remedy, the Court should not impose on the respondents a contract they had not made.

Decision reserved.

John H. Reynolds, for appellant; E. G. Lapham, for respondent.

THE LAW OF CONTRIBUTING NEGLIGENCE AS APPLIED TO INFANTS.

Harvey Mangam, Jr., by Guardian, vs. The Brooklyn City Railroad Company.—The plaintiff in this case, a boy of about four years old, escaped from his parents' house, on First-street, Williamsburg, and on crossing First-street, near North Tenth, after he had cleared the mules, was struck down and run over by one of the defendant's cars. According to the evidence given the driver of the car was at the time attending to a pidgeon he had knocked down some time before, and not to his horses. Judge Brown, at Circuit, nonsuited the plaintiff; the General Term reversed the decision and ordered a new trial, and the defendant appealed.

The defendant seeks to maintain the decision of Judge Brown, on the ground, first, that the child was guilty of negligence in being in the carriage way of the public streets without a guardian; that is, that the parents had an absolute duty to keep the child out of the streets, a failure to perform which is in law imputed to the child. Second, that he could, with ordinary care and discretion, have escaped.

The plaintiff claims that the case is one of very gross and culpable negligence on the part of the defendants, and that where an injury to a child of tender years, unattended in a public street or highway, is caused by gross and culpable negligence, the wrong-doer is responsible, though the child be entirely helpless and unfit to be in the street alone, and may have been suffered to go there through the negligence of its parents or guardians, and though the injury would not have happened, but for its incapacity of self-protection. That there was no negligence in the parents, since the boy escaped without their permission; that the only proof of the child's negligence was his age; that this was not a concurring cause of the injury, and that the question of actual negligence in attempting to cross too near the car was for the jury, not the Court. Decision reserved.

Mr. Jenks for appellant; Mr. Southmayd for respondent.

AGREEMENTS NOT TO BID ON A FORECLOSURE SALE.

Isaac Merritt vs. John A. Millard.—The plaintiff and one Jared Brewster, holding each a subsequent lien on an undivided half of lands about to be sold under foreclosure, and the surplus on such sale being estimated by them at $500 for each, Brewster agreed to pay Merritt $500, Merritt not to interfere in the sale. After the sale Brewster paid his attorney, the defendant, $500 to be paid over to Merritt's attorney. The defendant did not do so, and the plaintiff brought suit. The defendant interposed several defences, among the rest a counterclaim for $300, all of which except the general denial were stricken out on demurrer. The Court below gave judgment for the plaintiff and the defendant appealed. He claims that the plaintiff's demand arises out of a contract to abstain from purchasing at a Referee's sale, forbidden by law and contrary to public policy, and as such cannot be aided by the Courts.

The plaintiff in reply contends that the contract between Merritt and Brewster was a sale of Merritt's interest to the latter, not within the law as to such sales; that the combination of bidders, which the law condemns, supposes that parties for their joint profit combine in the purchase of property at a public sale to the injury of others, and the principle does not extend to a case like this; that the action is not brought upon the supposed illegal contract, and the obligation of the defendant is not affected by it, and does not even grow out of it in any legal sense, and the plaintiff does not require the aid of the illegal contract to support his action; and that even if the contract were illegal, Brewster might still voluntarily perform it; and if he placed money in the hands of a third party to be paid over to the plaintiff, it raised a contract between such third party and the plaintiff, entirely independent of the original consideration between Brewster and the plaintiff.

Decision reserved.

Appellant in person; John H. Reynolds for respondent.

SUPREME COURT—SPECIAL TERM—OCT. 6.

Before Judge Sutherland.

DEMURRER TO AN ANSWER—CONTRACT TO RUN GOODS THROUGH THE BLOCKADE.

Thomas Reddington vs. Stephen R. Fowler et al.—In this case, the plaintiff claims that the defendants, merchants in Texas, received goods from him for sale on commission, and have not paid some of the proceeds, amounting to about $4,275. The defendants, in their answer, put in a general denial, and also set up that the transaction was during the operation of the blockade proclamations and was in contravention of them, and, as the plaintiff was a citizen of the United States, unlawful, and that hence no recovery can be had.

The plaintiff demurred to this part of the defence, on the ground that the answer did not set up facts to show that the the transaction was in contravention of the blockade—not even that the goods were run through the blockade. Besides, admitting that a contract to run goods through the blockade would be void, this action is not founded on that, but on a contract arising independent of running goods through the blockade. It was contended, on the other hand, that the answer was as full as the complaint, and that the receipt of the money was but an incident of the transaction of which the unlawful running the blockade was one portion.

The decision of the Court was reserved.

For plaintiff, Roger A. Pryor; for defendants, Martin & Smith.

Before Recorder Hackett.

In the Court of General Sessions yesterday, two cases occupied the attention of Judge and jury the entire day.

Philip Vetter was arraigned for stabbing Sebastian Louderback, with a chisel, on the night of the 15th ult., injuring him severely. The indictment against the prisoner was for felonious assault and battery, but the District-Attorney only asked for a verdict of "guilty of assault with intent to do bodily harm." The jury deliberated for a short time, and returned a verdict of acquittal.

Patrick Sullivan, indicted for shooting Officer Fisher, of the Twentieth Precinct, was called for trial; but as the accused, who was out on bail, failed to respond, his recognizance was forfeited, and a new order of arrest issued.

The Court adjourned until this morning at 11 o'clock.

TUESDAY, Oct. 6—P. M.

The sales of Gold to-day were at 140⅛@140 @139⅞@140⅛@140¼ ₽ cent. The Gold for cash delivery was rather scarce, and a small consideration was paid for its use until to-morrow. The Customs demand is fairly active this week, and against this the Treasury Office, thus far, is not a seller. The Foreign Exchanges are weak at 108⅜@108⅝ ₽ cent. for prime 60-day Bills on London. There is some anxiety among the Bankers to draw on even these reduced terms, since the rise in Cotton in Liverpool and the improved accounts from the South of the picking weather. The current estimates of the crop have been generally advanced since the change of weather and the free receipts at New-Orleans and other Southern ports.

The Money market has settled down since last Saturday at 6@7 ₽ cent. per annum to the Brokers, on call, and 7 ₽ cent. for prime short-date Merchant paper. The demand was not pressing from the Stock Exchange to-day, and there was about as much done at 6 ₽ cent. as at 7 ₽ cent. The great dealers in the Public Funds report a liberal offering of Money on their class of collateral at 6 ₽ cent.

The Public Funds were generally about ⅛@¼ ₽ cent. firmer than the average transactions of yesterday. The Speculators on the Exchange are not doing much. Most of them have been somewhat bearish in their views, and not disposed at present, of course, to accept or act upon an upward turn in the market. The buying demand and orders per mail, upon the large dealers, is decidedly active to-day.

On the Stock Exchange, in other departments than the Public Funds, the speculation in Pacific Mail, of which there is the ample capital of $17,833,000 to speculate upon, was the decided feature of the day. The transactions were again large, and the rise in price, over the heavy advance of yesterday, extremely rapid and under much excitement. The figures were 123⅞@126⅛ @125 @ 124⅞@126 @ 128@130@131@130@129 ₽ cent. These quotations are 15@20 ₽ cent. above the sales of last week, though still 10@12 ₽ cent. below the currency of this time last October, when the Webb-Opposition Line had not assumed proportions sufficient to render the business of the Pacific Mail of doubtful profit or to make a compromise or settlement of the competition a matter of very grave importance. The stock was then selling at 140@141 ₽ cent. It has since sold at 89, but recently advanced about par without a settlement of the Opposition. The rapid rise since ten days, as we have had occasion to note several times in our daily reports, had induced the belief that some sort of proposition or plan was on foot, either to withdraw or consolidate the rival line—and our information, to-day, is to the effect that the competition has already substantially ceased. The terms are not yet made public, but it is a sufficient guarantee that the basis of settlement is known to be a rational one, because of the already extensive and still growing and even pressing business of both lines. In Western Union Telegraph there was a further rise to 37⅞@38 ₽ cent., and on the Railway list a large advance on Milwaukee and St. Paul and Toledo and Wabash Stocks, on the very favorable September reports of traffic. Both the St. Pauls were close on to par value. In Cleveland and Pittsburg there was also a large movement—up to 88 ₽ cent., and the Northwest Stocks were firm and on the advance. Erie Stock was dull throughout the day, and New-York Central was sold down ⅞@1 ₽ cent. Reading sold up to 96¼ ₽ cent., and closed about this figure.

After the late Boards broke up the following quotations were made as compared with Monday night. The Gold market was stiffer at 140⅜ ₽ cent. Exchange easy at 108⅜@108⅝ ₽ cent. Pacific Mail continued feverish. The Railways irregular. The Public Funds steady:

Gen. BURNSIDE is now making rapid progress in building his new road from Indianapolis to Vincennes, Ind., 114 miles, which completed, as it will be in a short time, comes under the joint charge of the Indianapolis, Cincinnati and Lafayette Company, the Columbus, Chicago and Indiana Central Company, and the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis Company, as part of the through connection with these east and west lines, on a lease equivalent to (and so guaranteed,) $199,500, or 7 per cent. upon the first and only mortgage of $1,700,000 on the Road, and over 6 per cent. upon the common stock of $1,300,000. The General has placed more than one-third of his mortgage bonds (40 years to run) in Boston, and will soon offer the remainder in New-York and Providence.

Earnings of the Milwaukee and St. Paul Railway for September:

1868	$1,023,520
1867	751,738
Increase	$271,782

Earnings of the Toledo, Wabash and Western Railroad Company for September—fourth week:

1868	$141,888 52
1867	113,784 40
Increase	$28,104 12
For the month:
1868	$450,202 62
1867	382,995 94
Increase	$67,206 68

The business at the office of the United States Assistant Treasurer to-day was as follows: Receipts for Customs, $516,090; receipts for Gold Notes, $97,000; total receipts, $2,194,161 37 total payments, $1,599,504 59; balance, $94,193,557 44.

The week's exports of Domestic Produce and Miscellaneous Goods from this port have been to the currency value of $3,072,568.

A moderate trade has been reported in Dry Goods thus far in the current week, at, in most instances, fairly sustained prices. A little more firmness has been noted in domestic Cottons of desirable make. Domestic Woolens have been quoted strong in price. There has been some irregularity in foreign fabrics, but no marked depression of values has occurred. The auction business was opened to-day with comparatively attractive offerings of French and English Dress Goods, tailoring, millinery and trimming goods, and miscellaneous assortments, but the bidding was not remarkably brisk, and the several sales resulted rather unsatisfactorily, as far as regards prices.

The Albany Argus gives the following list of canal-boats as having passed Fultonville during forty-eight hours ending 1:30 P. M., Oct. 5, 1868:

Pacific Railroad, of Missouri, Six Per Cent. Gold Bonds.

The Pacific Railroad, of Missouri, having completed the purchase of Five Millions of Missouri State Sixes, from proceeds of sales of its Six per Cent. Gold Mortgage Bonds, and having paid them over in discharge of all its indebtedness to the State, now offers through the undersigned about $1,500,000 more of its Six per Cent. Gold Mortgage Bonds due in 1888, Coupons payable February and August; the proceeds to be applied to payment of Bonds about maturing, which will then leave the entire debt of the road $7,000,000 in Six per Cent. Gold Bonds, the annual interest upon which will be $420,000 in Gold, while the net receipts for the present year will exceed $1,200,000.

The Road runs from St. Louis to Kansas City—283 miles. Price for the present, par, and accrued interest in currency.

Railway Management—Letter from James McHenry, Esq.

NEW-YORK, Sept. 26, 1868.

Hon. Henry G. Stebbins, President Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company.

MY DEAR SIR: The Atlantic and Great Western Railway was in a position of extreme peril when you brought to its assistance the association of your name and the support of your counsels. Into the causes which led to its humiliating position I need not enter—time has shown they were not radical. On your acceptance of the Presidency difficulties rapidly vanished, and a few months have brought us to the beginning of renewed prosperity.

Railways, generally, in the United States, have singularly failed in realizing the chief objects of their construction—they have failed in remunerating the original shareholders, who as a class have ceased to exist, as no one now dreams of subscribing for shares in a new railway,—and they have failed in providing what Lord BACON called one of three things which make a nation great and prosperous—"an easy and cheap conveyance for men and commodities from one place to another."

In the United States we have a population enlightened, active, enterprising, producing more by many fold than any other of same extent, and we have a country teeming with wealth, through which great railways have been constructed, for exchange of traffic between these people—with what result?

The vast capital which by a series of laborious financial manœuvres finally represents many millions of dollars, is allowed to remain idle for twenty hours out of twenty-four from want of equipment to keep the permanent way employed, or by excessive charges on transportation. Twenty hours out of twenty-four means ten months in the year, during which the railway is closed against revenue, but remains open to depreciation and expenditure—we know what would happen to the banker or merchant who would so administer his capital.

This timid management—to use a mild phrase—is a chief cause of the wonderful non-success of our railways in remunerating the shareholders and accommodating the wants of the community.

The whole through passenger traffic of the four trunk lines westward does not much exceed the foreign immigration, and one street railway in New-York carries about as many passengers in a day as either of these companies carry through one way in a year! there are dozens of commercial houses whose business exceeds in tonnage the whole through western traffic of any of them.

The great West has no monopoly of its great staples, therefore freights must be so regulated that the producer will be able to compete in foreign markets with foreign produce. The semi-barbarous inhabitants of Eastern Europe are more than a match for the civilization of Western America in supplying Western Europe with breadstuffs. I shall be able to prove that a rate per ton of one cent a mile will give our people the advantage in the competition and give great profits to the railways who will have the courage to inaugurate the system and pertinaciously stick to it, so that merchants may make extended contracts in confidence that their plans will not be frustrated by a sudden jump in rates. To increase the profits of the railway—add to the value of land and assure the prosperity of the country—rates must be low and fixed, and this system I shall advocate with all my might until our permanent way is fully occupied.

You once, from your place in Congress, startled the country by proclaiming that the United States could raise three hundred millions a year in support of the war—and in a year found you had not stated half the truth. Something of the same energetic spirit which had the sagacity to measure our financial strength by the valuation of our dormant resources, is now required to arouse railway proprietors to the evils and dangers of their position.

We have no first-class passenger traffic because those who should pay for the best accommodation generally manage to travel free; the only paying passengers are those few citizens who have no acquaintance with directors, while the working classes receive no suitable accommodation. The great mass of the inhabitants of the Eastern cities, who would become prosperous citizens in the West, are kept in the sternest competition for a livelihood from want of means to travel. I believe that emigration from Eastern cities would vastly exceed the immigration from Europe if the rates were adapted to the means of the people.

The Governor of Wisconsin lately writes:

> "There is no need of able-bodied men and women suffering the pinchings of life-long poverty, while in all the young Western States there are millions of acres yet unsold, their generous soil and delightful location offering homes and fortunes to any who will come and take them. None who are blessed with health need remain poor among us. The vast resources of this fertile region have as yet but begun to be developed. Notwithstanding the great tide of emigration from the Eastern States and foreign countries which has for years been pouring in upon us, the West is still comparatively sparsely settled, and in every branch of industry there is yet abundance of room."

The Governor is right as to the advantages of moving westward, but if the published figures of through traffic on our railways be correct, I fail to see any particular "tide" of emigration at present, though railways, by cheap fares, could create a great flood.

Though I have a high opinion of the merits of the Broad Gauge, yet as a matter of policy, and to secure connections over the narrow gauge system, I advocate putting down a third rail upon the Atlantic and Great Western Railway; I hope the Ohio and Mississippi (with which we have had no reason to be other than in friendly accord, although the connection has not been profitable to either party, from causes which I believe can be remedied) and the Erie (which has throughout our existence, acted toward us with the most consistent illiberality) will also adopt this third rail.

It is said that the broad gauge cannot be worked with the same economy as the narrow gauge; but the Great Western of England—a seven feet gauge—works at a less percentage of revenue than any of the leading narrow gauges, viz.: forty-seven per cent., and, I may add, when the transportation expenses and maintenance of way and works of any important railway in full work exceed fifty per cent. the accounts should be received with some suspicion. A writer in the London Times, in reference to English railways, has said:

> "What is required is a little moral courage and a sharp knife. Unnecessary expenses, things and persons, should be pared down or cut away. Let any bewildered chairman of a railway company, and puzzled director who really is in the dark, and cannot understand how it is that so little is left for the shareholders at the end of the half year—let him, I say, put himself in confidential communication with two or three sensible, but poor, because underpaid, workmen along the line, at the railway stations, in the carriage-making departments or the timber-yards. Let him promise to shield these men from the spite, the petty tyranny, the open oppression at the hands of the chief officials and overlookers which would infallibly follow the revelations made. I undertake to say the chairman or director would soon be let into some strange secrets. The mystery of small and decreasing dividends would soon vanish. Jobbery in the purchase of timber, jobbery in the purchase of iron, unnecessary overlookers, unnecessary foremen, and managing men, half ignorant of their business, paid for doing little or nothing, but exalted by favoritism and private interests—these are some of the secrets which would be disclosed. I am not sure that I have not thrown out a hint which will make the fortune of many a railway and revive the spirits of many shareholders."

I trust the general interests of the several broad gauge lines can be made to harmonize more than heretofore. But if other companies continue to make through traffic impracticable, we should not be a party to their policy. Our road was constructed for Western traffic—we do not receive it—there is no reason why we should not have it except the hostility of connecting lines, and until a more sensible policy prevails, the interests of our local business should alone be looked to. Considering the splendid territory possessed by the Atlantic and Great Western within itself, and the various resources which it absolutely controls, I think we shall be justified in altogether abandoning the through traffic, which has been hitherto conducted so loosely and tamely as to create wonder that gentlemen controlling properties which have cost so much should neglect the superabundant sources of revenue whose development would so richly repay them. Our local traffic will meet the interest on our bonded debt and give a satisfactory return to the shareholders.

Our railway passes through one hundred miles of the best coal fields in the world, while for some hundred miles west, south and north of us there is no coal, but we have heretofore strangled this business by excessive rates. I propose we shall cut down these rates and stimulate an enormous production of the bread of industry, as coal was felicitously called by M. ROUHER recently in the French Parliament, in a debate on the management of railways. These low rates should not be intermittent or changeable. I think if we can introduce the elements of cheapness and certainty into our rates our road will secure a volume of business which will raise its income to an amount per mile hitherto unequaled in the United States.

The Atlantic and Great Western Railway is said to be overburdened with its capital account. Apparently our capital is in excess of some other railways, but it is all capital. We did in five years what other great corporations, with constant appeals for personal, municipal or State subscriptions and grants, took twenty years to accomplish, aided by the revenues during all these years. The construction of the Atlantic and Great Western has been solely from capital, while other railways have been constructed from capital revenue and donations combined—that is the difference, and in the long run my plan will prove the most economical. After all, the value of a thing is what it will bring—and not what it costs—and as the Atlantic and Great Western earned a gross revenue of 10 per cent. on its full capital within three years of its opening, there is some assurance that it will be able to take good care of it in the future.

You will remember the Paris, Lyons and Mediterranean Railway, one of those colossal works which will be forever associated with the name of my esteemed friend, SIR MORTON PETO, its chief constructor. With its branches, it is about the same length as the broad gauge from New-York to St. Louis, 1,200 miles—it passes through a country barren in comparison with the district we traverse—it has neither mines, nor except at Lyons, any great manufactures to support it, and yet its capital is not less than $600,000,000, and its revenue nearly a million dollars per week. Now what is there in that railway which has justified its enormous cost, and more remarkable still, what is there in the country it accommodates, which enables it to produce such a revenue? It has one quarter of France as its feeder, but we have at our back a country superior in powers of production to all Europe.

The prolonged and embittered contest for control of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway Company is now happily ended.

I have written this letter to place before you a condensation of my views on railway administration, arrived at from long and anxious experience, and indicating the means which will assuredly restore to us our early profits, so rudely and so wantonly checked. These are:

1. A liberal expenditure of capital in making a substantial road, providing facilities for traffic and abundant rolling stock.
2. To compete boldly with the water communication for freight.
3. To secure an increase of passenger traffic, by graduating the rates and the accommodation to the wants of the population.

And, while recognizing with high satisfaction the ability with which the Receiver, Gen. R. B. POTTER, has administered its affairs, I desire to place on record, that to you, especially, is due the present strength and prospective prosperity of the Atlantic and Great Western Railway.

I am most faithfully your friend,
JAMES McHENRY.

BANKING AND FINANCIAL.

☞ TO CAREFUL INVESTORS.—The FIRST MORTGAGE THIRTY-YEAR SIX PER CENT. Gold Bonds of the Central Pacific Railroad Company, based upon the most valuable portion of the main line to and from the Pacific Coast, are believed to possess advantages and assurances shared by no other Corporate securities. More than 350 miles are now completed, and the whole through line will be finished within a year. The local traffic is already very large and growing. The bonds can be had at 103 and accrued interest in currency. For sale by Catalogues ready and books on exhibition.

Also, a black walnut bookcase, cost $500.

PUBLIC SALE OF OVER 100,000 ACRES OF VALUABLE COAL, IRON, TIMBER, FARM AND HEMLOCK LANDS, IN THE COUNTIES OF McKEAN, ELK AND CAMERON, PENNSYLVANIA.

The well-known and valuable lands of the McKean and Elk Land and Improvement Company, will be exposed to public sale in tracts or parcels, on TUESDAY, the 20th day of October, 1868, at 12 o'clock M., at the Philadelphia Exchange.

These lands are situated in the northwestern part of the State, on the line of the Philadelphia and Erie Railroad, 94 miles east of Erie, nearly equidistant and connected by direct railroads with the cities of New-York, Philadelphia and Baltimore, and on completion of the railroad connections within 100 miles of Buffalo and Rochester, in the State of New-York.

The attention of capitalists, manufacturers of iron and lumber, miners of coal, tanners and others, is specially solicited to these lands, containing large and workable veins of superior gas and steam coals; iron in large quantities and of excellent quality, and covered with a primitive forest of hardwoods, hemlock and pine timber unsurpassed in the Eastern States, and possessing a soil equally productive with the best lands of the State of New-York.

Catalogues and pamphlets, containing maps with full descriptions, terms of sale, and all other desired information will be furnished on application to the undersigned auctioneers, or to WILLIAM HACKER, Secretary and Treasurer, at the office of the Company, No. 426 Walnut-st., Philadelphia.

EXECUTOR'S SALE OF HANDSOME country seat at Huntington, L. I., the residence of the late Hon. C. C. Cambreleng. E. H. LUDLOW & CO. will sell at auction, on THURSDAY, Oct. 15, 1868, at 12 o'clock, at the Exchange Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway, New-York, by order of Stephen Cambreleng, Esq., Executor, Kalmia, Huntington, L. I.

This beautiful country seat is situated 2½ miles from the village of Huntington, L. I., on a point of land extending into Huntington Bay, known as West Neck. It comprises about 60 acres of high land, lying 70 feet above high-water mark, on one side forming a bold cliff of that height, overlooking the Bay. The residence is an English cottage of brick, stuccoed, built in a most substantial manner, under the immediate personal supervision of the late occupant. It contains a library, drawing-room, dining-room, five bedrooms, attic and basement kitchen. The whole is handsomely furnished, and if speedy application is made, the furniture may be purchased with the house.

There are also a greenhouse and a grapery, (the latter well stocked,) a gardener's lodge, convenient barns, ice-house, &c., &c. There is a fine assortment of choice fruit-bearing trees, some of them having been imported expressly for this estate. About 23 acres of the land are covered by a fine, rich growth of trees and a luxuriant undergrowth of kalmias; the remainder is divided into gardens and meadow land. There is a beautiful silver beach, most admirably adapted to bathing, and the adjoining waters are fitted to produce shell-fish of a superior quality. The harbor is the best on Long Island, large and perfectly sheltered, affording unusual advantages for yachting.

For its healthfulness, its great natural beauty, its fitness for bathing and yachting, this place cannot be surpassed.

It is situated for a Summer residence, or, as has always been the case, for a residence during the entire year.

It is accessible from New-York by the Long Island Railroad, and during the Summer by boat.

For maps and particulars apply to the auctioneers, No. 3 Pine-st.

ADRIAN H. MULLER, Auctioneer.

PEREMPTORY SALE OF A VALUABLE COUNTRY SEAT AT WEST ORANGE, N. J.—ADRIAN H. MULLER, P. R. WILKINS & CO. will sell at auction on THURSDAY, Oct. 8, at 12 o'clock, at the Exchange Salesroom, No. 111 Broadway:

A valuable country seat, contains 30 acres of land, situated on the slope of the Orange Mountain, on the turnpike road leading from Centreville to Orange, contiguous to Eagle Rock, and about quarter of a mile from Llewellen Park: 15 acres of land are under tillage, the balance is fine wood and pasture land. The place is well stocked with apples, quinces, and other fruits. There is also on the place a never-failing spring of the purest water. The mansion-house is of frame, well and substantially built; large and commodious range and water. There is also a gardener's cottage, coach-house and stable, cow-house, and all necessary outbuildings. This property is most beautifully located, and for beauty of scenery and healthfulness cannot be surpassed. To those wishing to purchase a suburban residence, or for those seeking profitable investment, this sale (which will be positive) presents an opportunity seldom met with.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

EUROPE.

The cable reports that it is daily becoming more and more evident that the majority of the people of Spain favor a republican form of government. Marshal SERRANO has assumed the charge of affairs, at the request of the Junta, for the present, and Gen. PRIM and OLOZAGO act as his colleagues. The formation of the new Cabinet has not yet been completed. Gen. PRIM, on his arrival at Madrid, was enthusiastically greeted.

GENERAL.

The Republican State Committee of New-Hampshire held a meeting in Concord on Thursday, and resolved to commence a vigorous campaign of the State immediately after the October elections. Grant and Colfax meetings will then commence in all sections, and will continue until the Presidential election. A searching canvass of voters is to be made immediately, and the New-Hampshire Republicans have long since proved how nearly accurate they can make that. Accessions from the Democratic Party were very generally reported, and it was stated that there is scarcely a city or town in the State which does not promise Republican gains. The lowest estimated majority for Gen. GRANT was 5,000, and some of the members of the Committee set the figures at 10,000. At any rate, New-Hampshire will do well on the 3d of November.

A Lawrence dispatch to the Chicago Tribune states that a remarkable petrifaction was recently discovered at Sheridan, at the end of the Kansas Pacific Railroad. It seems to have been the remains of a crocodile, and measures 126 feet in length from the head to the end of the tail. Of the jaw only the upper one was found, which measured seven feet to the first joint of the spinal column, and actually weighed seventy-five pounds. The tail measured sixteen feet in length. The first bone measured four and a half inches in diameter, and the last three-fourths of an inch.

A band of roving and plundering Indians, 200 strong, were recently attacked and whipped in Texas by a force of sixty soldiers and a few Mexican volunteers, under Lieut. CUSAC, of the Ninth Cavalry, who were sent out from Austin by Gen. MERRITT. Between twenty and thirty of the Indians were killed, and as many more wounded. Their stock, consisting of some 200 mules and horses and a number of cattle, was captured, and their camp and Winter stores were destroyed.

A terrible tragedy was enacted at Aspinwall previous to the sailing of the steamship Ocean Queen, which reached this port yesterday. On the morning of Sept. 24, Mr. JAMES L. BALDWIN, Assistant Engineer of the Panama Railroad, shot Mr. WILLIAM PARKER, Superintendent of the Road, dead, and subsequently committed suicide himself. Our Panama correspondence, printed elsewhere, gives full particulars of the affair.

Mr. PERCY RUSSELL, a well-known and wealthy farmer in Hinesburg, Vt., was murdered at his home on Saturday evening, by an unknown man. The deed was evidently committed for money, as the house was thoroughly ransacked. The murderer, however, obtained little valuable property, Mr. RUSSELL having deposited his bonds and cash a few days previous in a bank.

Late advices from Rio Janeiro announce that President LOPEZ, with 10,000 men, had arrived at San Fernando; also that Pilar, the chief port of Paraguay, had been occupied by a force of 28,000 of the allied troops, and was to form a base of operations against the Paraguayan position at the mouth of the Tibicuary.

The office of the Wolfville (Nova Scotia) Acadian a few nights since was broken into, and the type and other stock either destroyed or carried away. On Thursday night last an attempt was made to set fire to the office of the Quebec Gazette, which fortunately proved unsuccessful.

The propeller Perseverance, Capt. JOHN FITZGIBBONS, of the Welland Railway line, was burned to the water's edge, fifteen miles off Pultneyville, on Lake Ontario, yesterday morning, and fourteen persons, including the Captain, perished.

A dispatch received at the War Department, yesterday, from Gen. SHERMAN, says that the Kiowas and Comanches have refused to accept their annuities, and have taken the war path.

Kansas is being rapidly settled by Swedes. Committees representing two colonies are in the State, searching for the best place for settlement. They intend to purchase 26,000 acres of land in a body.

Hon. CHARLES FISHER has been appointed Judge of the Supreme Court of New-Brunswick, vacant by the elevation of Judge WILMOT as Governor of the Province.

The Savannah Republican, sold by the administrator at Savannah yesterday, goes into the hands of Col. J. R. SNEED, the old editor and proprietor. He takes possession immediately.

The only trial yesterday in the Court of General Sessions, was that of PHILLIP VETTER for felonious assault and battery, but the jury promptly acquitted the prisoner.

Mr. FRANCIS F. WILLS died in Newburyport on Sunday. He was well-known to the East India trade, having been a resident in Calcutta for a number of years, and at the head of the house of WILLS & Co.

The Vermont Legislature assembles to-day. It will choose a United States Senator, Hon. GEORGE F. EDMUNDS' term ending with the present Congress. Mr. EDMUNDS will probably be reelected.

The body found on Lake Erie a few days since, and reported as being that of Miss MINNIE PATCHIN, is that of Mrs. JOHN H. GARRETT, lost on the Morning Star.

The Kentucky Democrats are circulating a report that Ex-Gov. SEYMOUR has promised to make PENDLETON Secretary of the Treasury if he is elected President.

A paper on the early navigation of the Hudson River was read by Dr. A. K. GARDNER, before the Historical Society, last evening.

Thus far the sum of $13,000 has been raised in San Francisco for the aid of the sufferers in Peru by the late earthquakes.

The House of Bishops of the Province of Canada have appointed Thursday, the 22d inst., as a day of general thanksgiving after harvest.

The weather is reported clear and pleasant in Augusta, Ga.

The Georgia Assembly adjourned sine die yesterday. It meets again in January.

The Board of Health at the meeting of yesday, resolved to institute an investigation at once into the quality of the ingredients used by bakers of this city, in making bread. Dr. HARRIS' weekly report showed the number of deaths during the past week to have been in New-York, 472, and in Brooklyn, 196. The health of the chief cities of the Union is unusually good. The number of marriages and births within the Metropolitan District during the months of August and September last, according to the register, were as follows: Persons married in August, 1,730; in September, 1,466. Total, 3,196. Births in August, 546; in September, 790. Total, 1,336. The actual number of marriages it is estimated was about 18 per cent. more than appears upon the official record.

The opening services of the general Episcopal Convention will take place at Trinity Church this morning at 10 o'clock. This Convention will be the first, for several years, in which all the States will be represented. To-morrow the Convention will meet for business in Trinity Chapel, West Twenty-sixth-street. Members will be admitted at the north porch, on presenting tickets, which will be furnished by the Secretary to-day.

The alleged Revenue Frauds case came up again yesterday before United States Commissioner GUTTMAN. Messrs. TRACY, BAILEY, FARRAR, WEEKS, WEISS and FIKE were examined, and the case was adjourned until to-day at 10, that certain witnesses of MCHENRY might be produced to testify as to his good character.

Cotton yielded a fraction in price yesterday on a less active business. Breadstuffs were generally cheaper on a moderately active movement. Provisions were in light request. Mess Pork was lower. Prime steam lard, a shade firmer. Groceries were less buoyant. Freights, dull.

Antagonism of Races—Where the Responsibility Rests.

A New-Orleans correspondent narrates circumstantially, and we dare say with entire truth, some of the signs of the antagonism which exists between the freedmen and their friends and the great body of Southern whites. This antagonism, as he describes it, is marked and bitter. It shows itself in political organizations and processions, in places of public resort, in the open market and the street. It occasions angry excitement, continual disturbance, and not unfrequently bloodshed. It justifies the shooting of a mulatto who tenders his money at a coffee-stall by the white man who keeps it; and generally threatens a war of races, in which the destruction of the blacks is predicted.

Another correspondent, writing from Atlanta—whose letter we printed yesterday—gives illustrations of the same state of things in Georgia. The tokens of trouble necessarily differ from those which are observable in New-Orleans, but though less varied they are in their nature equally significant. Politics seem for the time the chief exciting cause. The free expression of Republican opinion, by white or black, is not tolerated. In the case of blacks, it leads to collision and violence. They may not hold Republican meetings or march in Republican processions. The Camilla massacre, as we now learn, so far from being the exceptional affair which it was at first supposed to be, is but one of a series of outrages originating in similar circumstances. More calamitous indeed it was in its results, but in its general bearing it has had many parallels. If in other instances less blood has been shed, it is because of circumstances in no degree mitigating the motives or purposes of the white aggressors. Almost everywhere, as our informant states, efforts have been made to prevent the holding of Republican assemblages; and if armed conflicts have not more frequently occurred, the fact is attributable, not to the absence of murderous intent on the part of the Democrats, officials included, but—to remarkable forbearance and discretion on the part of the Republicans.

The worst of the matter is, that these displays of hostile feeling are not confined to the class usually considered lawless. They are the outgrowth of a feeling which those who share it evidently deem natural, philosophical and universal. Our New-Orleans writer takes pains to expound and even to vindicate the feeling. In his eyes—and he is not habitually a law-breaker—it is reasonable, just and ineradicable. Ethnology is dragged into the controversy as a sort of scientific pretext for what is at once lawless and inhuman. The real nature of the thing, however, combines the old pride, passion and prejudice of the slave system. The imperious white man insists on still lording it over the hapless negro. The heartlessness which brought to the auctioneer's stand men and women guilty of the crime of having white fathers and colored mothers yet reveals itself. There are two races, and according to Democratic and slave-owning philosophy, one is the ordained superior, the other the ordained subordinate. It is not enough that one has the intelligence and the property, and that the other carries degradation, and performs the labor. That condition of things must be perpetuated, and war made upon the results of the war because they involve the political equality as well as the emancipation of the colored people.

An alleged desire to force upon the South social equality of white and black is a cause of quarrel on the part of the Democrats against the Republicans. Prejudice is appealed to, on social grounds, to heighten resistance to political changes. The Republican Party has conferred the privileges of a citizen on the freedman, and it has made some effort to qualify him for his new position, but beyond this it has not gone a step. As a party it has never dreamed of legislating social equality into existence. But it has granted, and is resolved to maintain the right of the freedman to participate in the affairs of Government. For this offence, white Republicans in the South share the proscription which is merciless against the blacks. The opposition is not simply to black Republican processions, but to all Republican organizations. They appear in public in the streets of New-Orleans only at their peril.

The shape in which Democratic hostility is crystalizing there, as elsewhere in the South, is, however, anti-black. It is the old slave-owning class, and the class of ruffians begotten of slavery, against all in whose veins negro blood courses, if they happen to be allied to the party of freedom. Negro subjection to Democratic domination or massacre in the name of ethnology and the Constitution; this is the alternative for which Southern supporters of SEYMOUR and BLAIR appear to be preparing us.

If this feeling eventuate in bloodshed, there can be no difficulty in determining where rests the responsibility. As a rule, up to this time the freedmen have behaved themselves well. They have asserted their political rights, as properly they may do, but they have evinced no tendency to riot, and none to interference with the political organization opposed to them. Experience in Georgia may have made them less disposed to trust Democratic promises, but it is certain that neither there nor in any other State have they meddled with their white neighbors for political causes. Whatever manifestations of bad feeling occur, then, we are warranted in putting down white Democrats as the aggressors. They are the promoters of all the antagonism that exists. They are fomenting angry feeling, awakening bitter prejudices, and threatening violence if their behests be unheeded. If more serious trouble arise, as the consequence of their action, they alone will be held responsible. But for them the South and the country might have peace.

The Final Stage.

The war, says Gen. MCCLELLAN, "was only the first epoch in the history of the struggle in which we have been so long engaged." Why did the General, in his farewell to Democracy, fail to complete the statement? He does not confound the close of the war with the close of the contest for supremacy. Armed hostilities were but "the first epoch,"—the final result remains to be reached; and he evidently comprehends at a glance the influences that are at work to neutralize the gains of victorious loyalty. The disgust excited by the condemnation of the war as a failure is intensified by the proposal of the same party to turn over the Government to rebels, and to undo the work of the Union armies. It is not surprising that the General declined to participate in proceedings designed to glorify a cause championed by the rebel leaders, or that he seized the occasion to announce his retirement from the complications of party politics. He is only one of thousands of Democrats whom the present attitude of the party has permanently alienated.

The prime blunder of Mr. SEYMOUR'S managers is in the dependence they have placed upon the gullibility of the people. They assumed that all they had to do was to shout "Constitution" incessantly, and to represent themselves as its advocates and defenders. They rejected HOOD's doctrine, that "a daw is not a religious bird because it cries 'caw' from a church steeple," and really seemed to imagine that under the pretence of upholding the Constitution, they might with impunity play into the hands of the Southern malcontents. On this presumption they acted in constructing the platform and making the nominations. But the pretence has not deceived anybody. In judging between the parties, the people estimate by things, not by words. And when it was found that under the plea of guarding the Constitution and the Union, the Democrats were preparing to consign both to the treacherous keeping of men who fought four years for their destruction, the decision in favor of GRANT was rendered in advance. On another basis, there might have been room for a keen conflict. The details of policy would have afforded materials for debate, and would have allowed differences of opinion among men substantially agreed on the general principles of government. But the Democratic choice precluded argument and ended all excuse for doubt. It was no longer a struggle between parties, in either of whose hands the peace of the country would be safe; but a struggle between those who saved the Union and those who would renew the assault upon it with a certainty of producing civil war. From that moment the election of GRANT was assured; the only open question being as to the extent to which Democratic frauds in the Middle States, and Democratic outrages in the Southern States may affect his majority.

Gen. Butler's Nomination for Congress.

Doubtless considerations of his general public character, which they regard as thoroughly disgraceful in any representative, and particularly disgraceful in a Massachusetts representative, have had something to do with the opposition which many Republicans in Gen. BUTLER's district are making to his return to Congress. It is a perfectly legitimate consideration, not only for them, but for Republicans outside the district and the State; for the whole party is interested in the maintenance by its individual representatives of an honorable fame. But this, at all events, it is competent for outsiders to consider,—that Gen. BUTLER was an avowed repudiator a year ago this Fall; that, however he may try to explain away his talk about greenbacks, he was an unblushing repudiator when he procured the introduction of the "Cobb resolution," and that he has never recanted and taken a fair stand on the Chicago platform. Recant, avow himself in error and beg pardon, or else keep off the Chicago platform, were the only two things he could do. Recant he would not, and the other day at Salem he constructed a platform of his own—in which, by the way, he gave a dishonest quotation from the resolutions adopted at Chicago—which is still unsatisfactory.

On this ground alone we hold that the Republicans of the country at large are amply justified in asking of the Republicans of Gen. BUTLER's district that he be left at home to ponder, if he likes, the proposition that a criminal lawyer's opinion of the virtue of American citizens is apt to be a mistaken one in proportion as it is a low and contemptuous one, and to reflect on the value, to a politician, of a reputation for ordinary honesty, to say nothing of high character. We, therefore, take leave to express a hope, which we sincerely feel, that Mr. DANA may beat his competitor, and should still hope so even if Mr. DANA were not one of the ablest men that Massachusetts can boast, and one whom she really owes to the service of the country. He would take into Congress great legal abilities and great acquirements, especially in the law of nations; he is an able speaker and a practiced debater; he is a man of untarnished integrity, and would do honor to any State's delegation at Washington, whether in the House or in the Senate.

How good his chances of success are we do not as yet know, but we should say that they must be very fair, and that a vigorous canvass between now and the 3d of November may be reasonably expected to give him the district. Probably, after an active campaign, calling out every Republican vote, there would be something near 13,000 votes cast. It is not certain that the Democrats, who cast about one-fourth of the votes of the district, will nominate at all. The more intelligent of them, should there be no nominee of their own in the field, will very likely help BUTLER, on the ground that when in Congress he does them more good than harm; but the rank and file of the Democracy—whom, by the way, he has been trying, in a speech at Lowell, to conciliate—will not be persuaded to vote for their former leader, and something less than half of the Republican vote of Essex County will be enough to return Mr. DANA. That he is regarded by BUTLER as a dangerous competitor, we judge from the ill-temper and other signs of anxiety which that gentleman has latterly been exhibiting in his letters and speeches. And we should say, looking at the matter from this distance, that his anxiety is not ill-founded. Mr. DANA himself and his family are well known to the people, and are very much respected; Mr. DANA's Three Years Before the Mast has probably been read by every boy in the county, the population of which is largely composed of seafaring men, and, finally, he ought to get the vote of every Republican of character and intelligence in the district, which is one of the most intelligent in the United States, and which we are not going to believe capable of indorsing BUTLER, with his record of the past two years, until we are compelled to believe so.

Still, BUTLER is strong in many ways. We do not speak of his wealth or patronage, or desire to touch on considerations of that kind. No doubt there are some reasons which might excuse even decent people for voting for him. The average Yankee has an inordinate reverence for "cuteness," and BUTLER is the incarnation of that not very charming quality. No one will deny that he has plenty of a certain kind of courage, and Gloucester fishermen are trained into a respect for courage and ready resource. He is a man of democratic manners, which his antagonist—who hides a warm heart under some reserve—is not. He will leave no stone unturned to beat, and it will not make very much difference to him—if his acquaintances of the criminal courts are to be trusted—whether the stone is clean or very dirty. Then again—and this we are very sorry for—there are people in Massachusetts, as well as elsewhere, who—without caring whether Gen. BUTLER was sincere in his attachment to extreme views in Republicanism, or was simply taking care of himself and assuming a virtue though he had it not—cannot forget what they call his "services" at the time of the impeachment trial. His "services," as any man but the blindest of partisans can see, largely consisted in disgusting his associates, and the jurors, and the opposing counsel, and the country at large with both the trial and himself. Nevertheless, it is said that Mr. SUMNER, Mr. BOUTWELL and other "original impeachers," who would hardly support him openly, do give him aid and countenance and indirect support. But impeachment is dead; and even if it were still living, it is no good reason why an original impeacher should support an original repudiator that the original repudiator brought discredit on impeachment.

We submit that in view of Gen. BUTLER's character, and the character of his opponent, and the expressed wishes of Republicans in all parts of the country, and in view of the fact that he would assuredly be a thorn in GRANT's side if he were in Congress during the next two years, and, finally, in view of their own character as an educated, virtuous community, proud of their honor, the Republicans of Gen. BUTLER's present district ought to vote for Mr. DANA. They owe it to themselves and to others.

The Episcopal General Convention.

The General Convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church of America meets to-day in this City. For the first time since 1859 delegates will be present from the Southern States, and the session promises to be one of great and peculiar interest. There will be forty-two Bishops in attendance, and every Diocese in the United States will be represented by four clerical and four lay delegates.

Among the matters of greatest public interest which will probably receive the attention of the Convention will be a revision of the canons of the Church with especial reference to cases such as that which caused so great excitement in the dioceses of New-York and New-Jersey last Spring, in which Rev. S. H. TYNG, Jr., was charged with having violated the law. There will also be an authoritative declaration of the House of Bishops with regard to "ritualism," that insidious enemy of the peace and prosperity of the Church, setting forth what forms the rubric and the canons allow at the celebration of Divine service. Ground will doubtless be taken against processionals, incense, colored vestments and other fopperies, but an ample margin will be left for the exercise of sound individual discretion. Consideration will also be given to the overtures for a union between the Methodist and Episcopal bodies, the idea being to promote Church unity. The consent of the Convention will be sought for the erection of the new Long Island, Northern New-York and Western New-York Dioceses, the Bishops of which are elected, however, by the Dioceses and not by the Convention. A missionary Bishop for Oregon is to be chosen, and during the session the consecration of Rev. CHARLES N. ROBERTSON, Bishop elect of Missouri, will take place. The missionary work of the Church will receive great attention, and a new life will probably be infused in this direction.

Within a few years past a more earnest and energetic spirit seems to have been awakened among the great body of Episcopalians, and the chief object of the Convention will be to direct this force into the channels where it will be most available for good results.

MINOR TOPICS.

The Board of Health yesterday directed an inspection of the flour and other ingredients used in the making of bread in this City. There is no doubt that there is need of this investigation, as some bakers are reported to be in the habit of using noxious and unwholesome substances. The Board did a great deal of good a short time ago by their measures against unsound and injurious flesh meats. If they can now suppress obnoxious bread, we shall again be indebted to them.

The Democratic papers are as much delighted with the town elections in Connecticut as they were with the State elections in Vermont and Maine. Every new defeat prognosticates victory. The appearance of Republican gains in every quarter shows that GRANT will be beaten next month. The disposition is such a happy one, that we will do all we can to encourage it. We, therefore, advise Democrats to devote the whole day to the contemplation of the Associated Press dispatch from Hartford, which announces that "returns from two-thirds of the State of Connecticut show large Republican gains in the popular vote."

Secretary MCCULLOCH has been able, as will be seen by the statement of the Public Debt, to make a far better exhibit this month than was expected. The increase of the debt, for which the Democrats were anxious, in order that they might have the more to repudiate, does not appear by the official account. On the contrary, there is an encouraging decrease, which will add to the happiness of all the friends of GRANT and honesty.

Quite a number of celebrated European savants will visit this country the present winter. Dr. KARL VOGT, of Geneva, the distinguished anthropologist and zoologist, author and professor, will favor our scientific classes with certain new theories and views on his favorite subjects. Prof. ROBERT SCHLAGINTWEIT, one of the three brothers who explored the Himalayas and a great part of Upper Asia eleven years ago, and who has for some years been engaged in publishing his contributions to geography, is coming over to deliver a series of lectures in Boston. Dr. LEMERIER, of Paris, a distinguished Professor of Comparative Anatomy and Physiology, will deliver in this City a popular course of lectures, accompanied by a large collection of elastic models. There may be other names of which we have not yet heard, but to these, and all others masters of science, we will in due time give welcome.

The Cornell University, at Ithaca, in this State—the institution to whose foundation Mr. EZRA CORNELL has made such princely contributions—will be opened to-day. A large corps of able professors have been appointed, and the course of study will be very comprehensive, embracing both classical and scientific courses. To those students who desire it, the University offers opportunities of manual labor, at which they may earn means for their own education. The University opens with high promise, and under the able Presidency of Dr. WHITE, will doubtless become one of the most important institutions of learning on the continent.

Though the English have received Mr. BURLINGAME's mission in an awfully frigid manner, there are a number of the great powers of Europe with which his negotiations are quite certain to be successful. There is no doubt, for example, that he can negotiate a satisfactory treaty with Russia. There is no doubt that he can negotiate such a treaty with Prussia. There will be little difficulty about his completing treaties with Italy and Spain. We do not suppose there will be much difficulty about his coming to terms with France. So that if John Bull chooses to be testy, selfish and malignant, it may yet be to the loss of John Bull.

The Chamber of Commerce failed to take any action toward sending relief to the sufferers by the terrific earthquake in South America. Gen. HOVEY, our Minister at Peru, has sent a dispatch to our Government, earnestly asking the American people to send assistance, and Secretary SEWARD promptly put the dispatch before the public through the Press. We now observe that several of our most responsible houses, such as DUNCAN, SHERMAN & Co., BROWN BROTHERS & Co., DABNEY, MORGAN & Co., announce that subscription lists are open at their offices, and that they will pass over contributions to the Peruvian Minister for remittance to Peru and Ecuador. Señor DE COUTO, at the El Cronista office, has also been energetic in forwarding this work of charity and receiving subscriptions. We hope to see such contributions as will show our sympathy with the sufferers by this terrible calamity.

The names of the gentlemen who are directors of the Underground Railway (published by us yesterday) ought to give assurance of the honest and able management of that work, and of its success. They not only comprise some of our greatest capitalists, but some of our best managers and executors of important public works. If they really do their part as "directors," there will not be the slightest chance of failure, and they will be accounted among the great benefactors of New-York.

The President of the University of Michigan (Dr. HAVEN) has just delivered his annual report on the affairs of that important institution. It is well known that there has been a quarrel going on for some time in regard to the appointment of a "Professor of Homeopathy." In 1855 the Legislature enacted that there should be such a Professor, but the authorities of the University never complied with the law; and last year the Legislature granted aid to the University only on condition that the Homeopathic Professorship were filled. The President argues at great length against the appointment, and sets forth the reasons for non-compliance with the law;—he urges its repeal, and trusts the Legislature will make grants unencumbered with conditions. President HAVEN argues in favor of the admission of women as students to the University.

The papers which have been singing the threnody of the Grecian Bend ought to have taken a walk up Broadway yesterday afternoon. They would have seen that they were all wrong in pronouncing it dead. In fact, there never was a day when such numerous examples, and such fine examples, of it could be seen.

On Tuesday next the October elections will be held in Pennsylvania, Indiana, Ohio, and Nebraska. It is conceded on all hands that these elections will furnish very reliable indications of the Presidential vote in November. If there be Republican gains approaching those in Maine, Vermont and Connecticut, Gen. GRANT will be elected by an overwhelming majority of the people and the States. It looks as though the gains would even surpass all those we have already chronicled.

We gave yesterday an exceedingly interesting communication sent to us by the Secretary of the "Palestine Exploration Fund," (London.) The gentlemen connected with it comprise some of the most eminent names in science and the Church. Their object is the exploration of the Holy Land, the determination of the sacred sites, the scientific observation of Palestine, and the excavation of those great accumulations of rubbish under which we must search for the real settlement of the many questions in Jewish archæology. The discoveries already made are of the highest interest. The south wall of the sacred area, within which stood the temple, has been explored to the foundation; and the other discoveries described by the Secretary must result in the settlement of questions which have been disputed for ages. The large number of Americans who have heretofore shown their interest in these explorations will be glad to learn that they have now an opportunity of assisting the Fund.

WASHINGTON.

The Statement of the Debt—A Decrease of Nearly Five Millions—The Spanish Legation.

Special Dispatches to the New-York Times.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The national debt statement for Oct. 1, showing the balance sheet for September, shows a net decrease in the public debt of $900,000, exclusive of $4,000,000 of bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad, which should legitimately be deducted, thus making the actual decrease within a fraction of $5,000,000. The Treasury balance has increased $3,000,000 since the last statement.

THE CAMILLA RIOT.

The official report of Gen. SIBLEY, Assistant Commissioner of Freedmen's Affairs for Georgia, on the Camilla riot, is now on its way to this city, as will be seen by the following telegram:

ATLANTA, Ga., Oct. 5, 1868.

To Major-Gen. O. O. Howard, Commissioner &c.:

Report of Camilla riot will be sent to-morrow.

C. C. SIBLEY,
Brevet Brig.-Gen. U.S.A., Assistant Commissioner.

Those Copperhead papers which charged Gen. HOWARD with having received and withheld the report are now fairly convicted of unblushing falsehood. A report from Gen. MEADE on the affair, embodying the statements already made public, has been received at the War Department.

THE INDIAN PEACE COMMISSION.

The Indian Peace Commission, composed of Hon. N. G. Taylor, Commissioner of Indian Affairs, President, Gen. W. T. Sherman, Gen. A. H. Terry, Gen. C. C. Augur, Senator J. B. Henderson, Gen. W. S. Harney, Col. S. F. Tappan and J. B. Sanborn, and A. S. H. White, Secretary, will meet at the Tremont House, Chicago, to-morrow, pursuant to adjournment last Spring. It was expected, at the time of adjournment, that at the meeting to-morrow the final report of the Commission would be arranged, and they would dissolve, having completed their business. But the recent serious troubles with the Indians will probably prolong their session, and necessitate prompt action to quiet the unfriendly Indians.

THE OVERLAND MAILS.

The transportation of the mails between the two ends of the Pacific Railroad has not been suspended, as has been reported—this on the authority of the Post Office Department.

THE MARYLAND FLOODS.

The clerks of the Treasury Department have sent $600 to the sufferers by the floods at Ellicott's Mills, Md., in June last.

Dispatches to the Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

DECREASE OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The public debt statement cannot be ready in time for publication to-day, but will be published to-morrow. It is stated at the Department that instead of an increase, it will show a decrease from September of $930,000. The receipts from Internal Revenue for nine days last preceding the 1st of October, were heavier than was expected. About four million Pacific Railroad bonds have been added to the debt since the last statement. Amount in the Treasury—coin, $97,000,000; currency, $13,300,000.

THE SPANISH LEGATION.

Various statements have recently appeared in the newspapers in substance that the Queen of Spain having been expelled from her throne, the duties of the Spanish Minister in Washington are, as a consequence, at an end, and that this has been so decided by Secretary SEWARD. There is the best authority for saying that the Secretary has made no decision of that character, nor is this a question which now demands the consideration of our Government. The Spanish Minister is still and will continue to be recognized as such until the Spanish Government itself shall otherwise determine.

NAVY INTELLIGENCE.

The Secretary of the Navy to-day issued the following orders:

Detached: Lieut.-Commander Dana, from command of the Huron and placed on waiting orders; Lieut.-Commander Huntington, Lieuts. Rachel and George W. Bignan, Acting Assistant Surgeon E. S. Perkins, First Assistant Engineer Caleb E. Lee, Second Assistant Engineers F. H. Fletcher, J. Bosthwick and Wason W. Waltier, from duty on board the Huron and placed on waiting orders; Assistant Paymaster Frank Bissell, from the Huron and ordered to settle his accounts; Acting Master Lyman Wallis and Ensign Arthur O. Leary, from the Huron and granted leave of absence prior to discharge; Passed Assistant Surgeon F. L. Dubois, from duty on board the late storeship Fredonia and placed on waiting orders; Passed Assistant Surgeon Samuel B. Shaw, from the practice ship Macedonia and ordered to the storeship Onward.

INCREASE OF COIN.

The Treasury's own increase of coin since the 1st of September is nearly nine and a quarter million dollars, independent of the payment of the interest of the ten-forties and sales of coin by Mr. VAN DYCK, amounting to about two and one-third millions.

STATEMENT OF THE PUBLIC DEBT.

The following statement of the public debt of the United States on the 1st of October, 1868, was issued late this afternoon, it having been completed and printed sooner than expected.

Total debt	$2,644,901,560 81

Amount in the Treasury.

Coin	$96,891,847 10
Currency	13,365,794 75
Total	$110,257,641 85
Amount of debt less cash in the Treasury	$2,534,643,918 96

The foregoing is a correct statement of the public debt as appears from the books and Treasurer's returns in the Department on the 1st of October, 1868.

HUGH McCULLOCH,
Secretary of the Treasury.

This statement, as compared with that of the previous month, shows the following

Increase.

Five-twenty bonds	$6,662,250 00
Fractional currency	1,131,695 80
Three per cent. certificates	25,000 00
Total	$7,818,945 80

Decrease.

Six per cent. compound interest notes	$4,084,900
Bonds of 1847 and 1848	290,550
Five per cent. Treasury notes	110,000
Gold certificates	4,895,220
Seven-thirty Treasury notes	1,112,000
Total	$10,493,670

Deduct the increase of $7,818,945 80, and the decrease of the public debt is $2,674,724 20; to this add the increase of cash in the Treasury, ($2,615,870 60), and this total is $5,290,594 80. The bonds issued to the Pacific Railroad Companies during the month amounted to $4,330,000. The net decrease of the debt during the month, including the bonds issued to the Railroad Companies, was $970,594 80.

The warrants issued by the Treasury Department during the month of September, 1868, to meet the requirements of the Government amounted in round numbers to the following sums, viz.:

Civil, miscellaneous and foreign intercourse	$3,710,207 89
Interest on the public debt	9,161,975 09
War Department	8,959,301 03
Navy Department	2,276,752 74
Interior, Pension and Indian Departments	5,410,095 37
Total	$30,027,731 96

The Secretary thinks that the disbursements of the present month will be lighter than the past, and that the close thereof will show a further decrease.

AMUSEMENTS.

Dramatic.

NEW-YORK THEATRE.

Mr. GAYLER's new local play had a second representation at the New-York Theatre last night. "Out of the Streets" is not a drama that improves upon acquaintance. It is a feeble narrative of hollowness, sin and degradation. Intent upon the course of his story, too, the author has in this instance forgotten that in a drama characters are not less essential than plot. There is not one character in the new piece. One person is, indeed, benevolent; another rigid in the sense of probity; several others—represented by Mr. BANGS, Mr. STUDLEY and Miss DENVIL—weak in the same, and wicked; and another, represented by Miss BLANCHE GREY, blindly confidant of her lover's honesty, which is assailed; but they are all shadows for a tale that should be read in fifteen minutes, not characters to be offered bodily to our senses for a three hours' study. And still, with the same exclusive care about his story, Mr. GAYLER has taken no pains to secure pithiness of expression. There is no effort in "Out of the Streets" to say good things pointedly, and sometimes even a tendency to say commonplace things tediously; this particularly during a scene between Mr. STUDLEY and Mr. BANGS in the third act, when everything that was already acted in the prologue is recapitulated; also in most of the scenes in which the boy Harry Wright is introduced. Childish prattle in long speeches is intolerable, and although Miss CHAPMAN, who does the part, exhibits a prodigious memory, the emptiness of the character admits neither of filling nor coloring. This little Miss evinced her capacity for precocious acting so clearly in "The Fast Family," played at Wallack's Theatre some seasons ago, that no blame can possibly be attached to her for not making the present performance as interesting. The fact is that the themes are all of the least inspiring order, and Mr. BANGS, in trying to make a misanthropic bigamist interesting, is tied to a task to which the Rock of Sysyphus was child's frolic. The part of Kate Pritchard, played by Miss DENVIL, and that of Dick of the Gulch, acted by Mr. STUDLEY, are dull imitations of Nancy Sykes and Bill. Mr. STUDLEY appears to appreciate the fact in his performance, and he makes no attempt to be less dull or interesting than his lines; but Miss DENVIL is not so wise, and with some boisterousness endeavors to supply the author's deficiency. Miss BLANCHE GREY is called upon to represent a young lady in good society, and she does so in an elegant toilet, and with a gracefulness that is inherent. She is introduced in the fourth act simply to mourn over the absence of a lover and the death of a father whom the audience have never seen in her company, and to defend the lover's character in some stereotyped phrases. Prometheus himself couldn't get up ardor on such short notice, and Miss GREY cannot be blamed if her own enthusiasm fails to rouse interest unassisted by the dramatist. Mr. PARSLOE exhibits his well-known characteristics (including the banjo-playing) in the part of a bootblack. He has nothing whatever to do with the plot of the play, however, and develops no new study of street-boy life. But it seems to be needless to go into further details. The dozen other players are not more interesting than those already named. Mr. COLEMAN, who made a hit as Quilp last year, is swallowed up in the part of a cockney undertaker, whose only fun is derived from malapropisms. The piece must rely on its reproduction of local scenes for any success it will have, and yet it is highly inartistic to lug in a view of Washington Market, or a view of Union Park without the excuse of an incident which could not reasonably transpire in another locality. The market scene is well devised for bustle and excitement, however, and will always be a feature of the piece. The mad dog nonsense should be cut at once. The animal wont imitate the rabid state, and wont touch the little girl whose life ought to be endangered, and the straw stones used to kill the brute look so harmless that the whole affair sets the audience in a roar, and excites, by the way, the heartiest laughter of the night.

ACADEMY OF MUSIC.

The season began auspiciously at this establishment last evening. Mdlle. JANAUSCHEK appeared as the Lady Isabella in SCHILLER's severely classical tragedy, "The Bride of Messina." She was warmly received upon her entrance, and her personation secured the earnest attention of a numerous audience, which had gathered to extend a hearty welcome to this great actress on her second visit to the States. The dramatic company that now accompanies her is composed of fresher material than her previous troupe. The performance will be considered in detail hereafter. The interest of the drama last night would not have suffered had its lengthy choruses been curtailed. It was close upon midnight before the curtain fell finally.

NEW-YORK CIRCUS.

Mr. LENT has no cause to accuse his New-York friends of forgetfulness. They were all in attendance last evening at the opening of the Amphitheatre in Fourteenth-street, and crowded the place to its outer walls. Neither paints, carpets nor upholstery have been spared on the place, and it wears again a fresh and truly inviting face. Most of last season's troupe reappeared in last evening's entertainment, and were duly welcomed after their Summer excursion among our rural friends. Mlle. ROLLANDE, who made her first appearance, is a daring bareback rider—and her equilibrium is something quite marvelous. A Wednesday matinée will be given at the Circus to-day.

GEORGE CHRISTY.

A performance is to be given this afternoon at 2 o'clock, by Hooley's Minstrels, of Brooklyn, in aid of a fund for a monument to GEORGE CHRISTY.

Nominations for Congress.

Lieut.-Col. W. J. WORTHINGTON, formerly of the Twenty-third Kentucky infantry, was nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Ninth District of that State, on the 1st inst. He was a member of the State Senate in 1865, and the nomination is said by a local Democratic paper to be the best that could have been made by the Republicans of the district.

Col. WIER BOYD, of Lumpkin, was nominated for Congress by the Democrats of the Sixth District of Georgia on the 1st inst. He was Colonel of the Fifty-second Georgia Regiment in the rebel army. The nomination was made on the thirty-fourth ballot.

The Democrats of the Arkansas Second District have nominated ANTHONY A. C. ROGERS for Congress. He was formerly a citizen of Tennessee.

Hon. THOMAS BOLES has been renominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Third District of Arkansas.

Hon. B. B. DE GRAFFENRIED has been nominated for Congress by the Republicans of the Fourth District of Georgia, Mr. JAMES FITZPATRICK, who was first nominated, having declined. He was Secretary of the Executive Department under Govs. H. V. JOHNSON and BROWN, and now holds the same position under Gov. BULLOCK. He used to be one of the Old-line Democrats of the State.

The Republicans of the Kentucky Second District have nominated Hon. SAMUEL LANGLY, of Henderson County, for Congress.

Relief for the Sufferers in Peru.

The undersigned beg to intimate to those who are desirous of contributing toward the relief of the sufferers by the late earthquake in the Republics of Peru and Ecuador, (South America,) that subscription lists for that purpose are open at their offices. Subscriptions received will be handed to the Peruvian Minister at Washington for remittance to Peru and Ecuador, in such proportion as subscribers may direct. The Peruvian Minister will acknowledge the receipt of sums in the daily newspapers. We believe that this work of charity will commend itself to all.

THE TURF.

The Jerome Park Fall Meeting—First Day's Racing—Richard B. Connolly Wins the Handicap—Bayonet the Champion Stakes—Bonnie Lass the Nursery Stakes, and Stonewall Jackson the Two-Mile Heat Race.

The American Jockey Club could not have desired a more lovely day than was yesterday for the opening day of their Fall race meeting at Jerome Park. The sun was bright and warm, but a delightful breeze swept up the beautiful valley in which the Course is located, and rendered the temperature cool and pleasant. The attendance was numerous and fashionable, but we thought it fell short of that of the corresponding day of the last Fall meeting. The management was unexceptionable in every respect, and the appointment of a new starter in the person of Mr. CHARLES LITTLEFIELD gave general satisfaction alike to the owners of horses and the general public. The judges were Gov. O. BOWIE, of Maryland; D. D. WITHERS, Esq., of New-York, and W. CONSTABLE, Esq. The timers were Messrs. S. D. BRUCE, of New-York, and J. SMITH, of Cincinnati.

The Handicap Race, which commenced the sport, was won very easily by the favorite, Richard B. Connolly, who, nicely weighted at 100 pounds, had the race safe from the start, and won easily. Two of his opponents, Lizzie Rogers and Aldebran, had a penalty of 5 pounds each to carry as winners after the publication of the weights, and they were unable to compete successfully in consequence with the namesake of the Comptroller, while Climax has evidently lost all form, for he never was formidable at any period of the race. Mr. MORRIS' representative, Fanny Ludlow, jumped round as the flag dropped, and was left at the post.

In the Champion Stakes, the withdrawal of the favorite, General Duke, at the last moment, created considerable surprise to the public, as well, as we believe, to his owner, Mr. JOHN O'DONNELL. We were informed that the cause of this proceeding was in consequence of that gentleman having openly expressed his dissatisfaction at the sale of Bayonet by Messrs. MCCONNELL & THOMPSON, his owners, to Capt. MOORE, at the Paterson meeting, and having stated his opinion that the sale was not a bona fide one. Messrs. MCCONNELL and THOMPSON, in whose stable General Duke is trained, feeling aggrieved at the imputation thus inferentially cast upon them, and unwilling to encounter the odium that, however unjustly and without cause, would rest upon them in the event of the Duke being beaten, declared the horse should not start, and the nomination for the stake being in their name, his actual owner was powerless to prevent it. The conduct of Messrs. MCCONNELL and THOMPSON in the matter seemed to meet with general approval. His withdrawal made Bayonet a strong favorite, although Messrs. BOWIE and HALL's handsome filly, Australia, had a strong party of friends, who backed her with spirit in the pools. Bayonet, however, won the race in two heats very easily—the first heat being run in the fastest time ever made on the track. After the race the opinion was general that it was a fortunate circumstance for the party connected with the Duke that he had been drawn, for it seemed more than probable that he would have been beaten if he had started, judging from the time made in both heats.

In the Nursery Stakes for two-year olds, Col. MCDANIEL's flying filly, Bonny Lass, gave her opponents little chance, for being remarkably quick on her feet, she jumped off in front as soon as the flag fell, had her horses safe in the first quarter of a mile, and won as she liked, in the fastest mile time for two-year olds ever recorded in the North. Bonnie Lass has been a remarkably fortunate investment for her owners, Messrs. BASSETT and MCDANIELS, for since they purchased her last March she has won over $7,000 in stakes, and they only gave $960 for her at Mr. JAMES S. WATSON's sale, who bred her.

In the two-mile heat race, Stonewall Jackson, as the betting prefigured, beat the field opposed to him with consummate ease. In the first heat a scrimmage took place among the horses at the upper turn on the second mile, in which Flora McIvor, Stonewall and Hotspur were cut, the former severely. It was a very difficult point to decide which horse had inflicted the injury to Flora, (for Mr. SANFORD made no complaint to the judges about his horse;) but the judges, after long deliberation and consultation, declared that Sarah B. was the offending animal, and distanced her accordingly. The racing throughout was of a high order of excellence, and gave unbounded satisfaction to the beholders.

THE HANDICAP RACE

was the best on the card, and had sixteen entries, of which six came to the post. The distance was a mile and a quarter, and the second horse was to save his entrance money, which was $50, half forfeit; the Club adding $50. The starters were JOHN O'DONNELL's br. c. Richard B. Conolly, 4 years, 100 pounds, and his b. f. Twinkle, 3 years, 90 pounds; D. WELDON's ch. g. Aldebaran, 109 pounds, (including 5 pounds penalty for running at Paterson;) Col. MCDANIEL's ch. f. Lizzie Rogers, 3 years, 90 pounds; (including five pounds extra for winning at Springfield;) Mr. R. B. FORBES' br. h. Climax, aged, 110 pounds, and Mr. F. MORRIS' b. f. Fanny Ludlow, 3 years, eighty-five pounds. Mr. O'DONNELL's entry was the favorite in the pool betting, bringing $300; Lizzie Rogers, $115; Aldebaran, $105; Climax, $90, and Local, $50. It was known that Climax was short of work and not up to the mark, having been "let up" since the Springfield meeting, where Lizzie Rogers beat him twice—a sufficient proof he was not in condition—and this will account for the low price he brought in the pools. Aldebaran, it was thought, would find the distance too short and the weight too heavy, to suit him, for he seems unable to run with anything over a hundred pounds on his back. After two failures, Mr. LITTLEFIELD dropped his flag to a somewhat straggling start, as we thought, Fanny Ludlow jumping round at the moment, and being left at the post. Mr. O'DONNELL's pair, Twinkle and Connolly were the first to show in front, and as they passed the stand the former was leading her stable companion, Connolly, a breath; Lizzie Rogers two lengths behind the latter, and Climax a length before Aldebaran. At the quarter pole the lot were strung out still further, two lengths separating Twinkle and Connolly, while Climax and Aldebaran were head and head. They ran thus around the club-house bend, and as they reappeared in sight again Richard B. Connolly was in possession of the lead with Lizzie Rogers in hot chase. It was evident at this point that the namesake of the Comptroller had the race in hand, for he galloped home the easiest of winners in 2:14¾, by two lengths; Lizzie Rogers second, three lengths before Aldebaran, who beat Climax by the same distance; Twinkle last.

FIRST RACE.—Handicap for all ages, one mile and a quarter, $50 entrance, half forfeit, and only $10 if declared; $500 added by the Club; the second horse to save his entrance; closed Aug. 4 with sixteen entries; weights published Aug. 17. After the publication of the weights a winner of $1,000 to carry five pounds extra; of $3,000, ten pounds extra.

THE CHAMPION STAKES.

A race for three years olds, mile heats, $200 entrance, half forfeit, with $1,500 added by the club, had twenty-seven entries; five of which started to compete for this rich prize. These were Capt. MOORE's b. c. Bayonet; BOWIE and HULL's b. f. Australia; Mr. JEROME's ch. c. St. Paul; Mr. SANFORD's b. f. La Polka, and Mr. MORRIS' b. f. Fanny Ludlow, who had failed to get off in the preceding race. The withdrawal of General Duke and the Cause, have already been noted. His retirement left Bayonet in the position of first favorite; brining in one pool $1,100; Australia, $875; La Polka, $200, and the field, $100.

FIRST HEAT.—St. Paul was first to show in front, but before reaching the quarter pole, Bayonet was leading, with Fanny Ludlow in attendance, and Australia traveling behind the others. They ran thus without change until half way up the quarter stretch, where Australia shot past her horses with a tremendous rush, and challenged Bayonet. A struggle short, sharp and decisive ensued, but the filly could never fairly reach Bayonet, who, stalling off her challenge, won the heat by a length in the remarkably fast time of 1:45¼, the quickest ever made on this course before.

SECOND HEAT.—In the pools Bayonet now sold for $200; Australia, $85, and the field, $16. Australia made the running, with the favorite in attendance, for over half a mile; the latter closing upon her on the lower stretch, had her safe at the three-quarter pole, and beat her home by two lengths, in 1:45¼; twenty lengths separating Australia from Fanny Ludlow, and La Polka last. Net value of the stake, $4,200.

SECOND RACE—The Champion Stakes for three year-olds, mile heats, $200 enter, h. f.; $1,500 added by the Club; the second horse to receive $300 out of the stakes. Closed with 27 entries.

THE NURSERY STAKES

for two-year olds, one mile, $50 entrance, play or pay, with $1,500 added by the Club, had eight starters out of the thirty-five entries. These were sold in pools as follows: Mr. MORRIS' Eclipse filly, dam by Slasher, $400; Mr. JEROME's Rapture, $425; Col. MCDANIELS' Bonnie Lass, $400; the field, comprising The Nun, (Mr. SANFORD's,) Invercauld and Inverness, (Mr. CAMERON's,) Attraction, (Mr. BELMONT's,) and Stoneplover colt, (Mr. CAMERON's,) only brought $200. The race is soon described: Bonnie Lass jumped off with the lead os soon as soon as the flag fell, and with the Morris filly in attendanc, made the running throughout, winning easily two lengths in 1:47¼, the quickest time ever ran in the North by a two-year old. Inverness was third.

THIRD RACE.—The Nursery Stakes for two-year olds, one mile, $50 entrance purse; $1,500 added by the Club; the second horse to receive $300 out of the stakes. Closed with thirty-five entries.

The pool selling last night at the Subscription Rooms, by Mr. W. C. CONNER, and at the Club Rooms, by Dr. UNDERWOOD, on to-days races, were as follows: For the Steward's Cup, James A. Connolly sold for $210; General Duke, $205; Nemeses, $75; Local, $55; General Yorke, $25; Abdel Kader, $10. For the Mile Heat Race, Richard B. Connolly sold for $85; Metairie, $60; Corsican, $25; Joe McConnel, $25, and Northumberland, $11. Good racing may be looked for.

The Buffalo Fall Meeting.

BUFFALO, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

There was a very slim attendance at the Fall meeting of the Buffalo Park Association to-day. There were two exciting and closely contested races, both of which, on account of the lateness of the hour, were not finished, and will be concluded to-morrow. The first race was for a premium of $200; $130 to the first horse, $50 to the second and $20 to the third; mile heats, best three in five; in harness; free for all horses that have never beaten 2:50 in harness previous to Sept. 15, 1868. Seven horses entered and six started. The following was the summary:

Tedy	1	2	2	1
J. Weles	2	1	4	4
Brown Mare	3	4	2	5
Lady Tartar	4	5	1	2
Galen Boy	5	3	3	3
Lake Shore Belle	6	6	4	5

Time—2:38¾, 2:38, 2:38, 2:40.

The second race was for a premium of $400, $260 to the first horse, $100 to the second, and $40 to the third, mile heats, best three in five in harness, free for all horses that have never beaten 2:35 in harness, previous to Sept. 15, 1868. Four horses entered and three started. The following is the summary:

Western New-York	1	2	1
Byron	2	1	2
General Love	3	3	3

Time—2:29, 2:29¾, 2:32.

The unfinished races will be concluded to-morrow at 1 o'clock P. M. The regular races of the day will commence at 2 o'clock.

The Races on the Mystic Course, Medford, Mass.

BOSTON, Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Two races were trotted at the Fair at Mystic Park to-day. The first was for horses that never beat 2:30, and was won by Dutchess, who gained the first, second, and fourth heats in 2:29, 2:28, and 2:30. The third was won by McClellan in 2:30. The purse was $1,000. Lady Neavits, Bradley, Latham, and Regors started. The second race was won by Warwick, he taking the last three of five heats in 2:38, 2:34, and 2:32. The second was a dead heat between Warwick and Madawaska Maid in 2:29½. The first heat was won by Emperor in 2:34. This race was for a purse of $1,500.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Seventeenth Assembly District Republicans.

The wigwam in Forty-sixth-street, near Eighth-avenue, was more than filled last night by the Republicans of the Seventeenth Assemby District. Mr. GEORGE P. BRADFORD, President of the Republican Association of the district, presided, and explained the absence of Senator WILSON, who was announced to speak. He then introduced Gen. VAN WYCK, who made one of his peculiarly incisive speeches.

Hon. Mr. MANNING, of Massachusetts, Hon. Mr. FOGG, of New-Hampshire, and Rev. Mr. KING, of the Eighteenth-street Baptist Church, were the other speakers. The Union Glee Club sang several of their excellent songs. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic of the campaign. About a fourth of the audience consisted of ladies, who, on being asked who they should vote for if they had the privilege, said without hesitation, "GRANT."

Twelfth Assembly District German Republicans.

The German Grant and Colfax Campaign Club of the Twelfth Assembly District, (CHARLES DIECKS, President,) held a well-attended meeting on Monday night at headquarters, No. 59 Avenue B, and listened with marked attention to the stirring speeches of Dr. E. W. HOEBER and others, who appealed both to head and heart not only to vote but to work earnestly for GRANT and COLFAX, and for GRISWOLD and CORNELL. Dr. HOEBER specially drew the attention of the Club to the necessity of giving the State of New-York into loyal hands, in view of the constant threatenings of the Southern rebels and their Northern allies, to plunge the country in another war after the election of U. S. GRANT.

Excelsior Club.

A large and enthusiastic meeting of the Excelsior Club Grant and Colfax Boys in Blue was held last evening at their headquarters, No. 811 Broadway, and after the usual business of the evening, Col. WALTER S. POOR was introduced, who arose amid loud cheering and delivered a most stirring and earnest address, during which he was most enthusiastically applauded, as were also DANIEL MCFARLAND, Col. MORGAN and Major BULLARD. After the speeches of D. T. D. DAVIE, and of the President, Col. G. W. DECOSTA, forty new members were added to the list.

Grant and Colfax Mass Meeting.

A mass meeting of citizens of the Eighteenth Ward will be held this (Wednesday) evening, in the great tent, corner of North Second and Smith streets, Brooklyn. Music, both vocal and instrumental, will be provided, and Gov. HAWLEY, of Connecticut, will speak.

Eleventh Assembly District.

A grand rally for GRANT and COLFAX will be made this evening at Ebbett Hall, Thirty-second-street, near Broadway. Addresses will be delivered by Major DOUGLAS CAMPBELL, Rev. WM. H. BOOLE, Hon. JOHN OAKEY and Hon. FREEMAN J. FITHIAN. A glee club will be present. Seats reserved for ladies.

The Hebrew Grant and Colfax Club.

A meeting of this Club was held last evening at No. 7 Delancey-street, Dr. ABRAM G. LEVY presiding. The only subjects discussed were the propriety of holding a public meeting and obtaining a larger hall for the regular meetings of the Club.

The Alleged Fraudulent Appointment of Canvassers and Inspectors of Election.

The Republican General Committee of Kings County met last evening at their headquarters in Washington-street, Mr. VOLNEY GREEN, of the Tenth Ward, in the chair. Mr. REEVE, from the Executive Committee, reported that they had made arrangements for holding a mass meeting at the Academy of Music on the night of the 24th inst., on which occasion Hon. JNO. A. GRISWOLD, candidate for Governor, Senator ROSCOE CONKLING and Hon. CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW would address the loyal citizens of Brooklyn.

Also, on motion of Mr. REEVE, a committee of one was appointed from each ward and county town to canvass the Republican vote throughout the county.

Mr. REEVE called attention to the fact that about one-third of the Canvassers and Inspectors of election, recently appointed by the Board of Supervisors, were Republicans, and charged that this was done with some design. At his suggestion the official list was read to the meeting, and it then appeared that his statement was correct. As each ward was called off some member of the Committee from that ward stated the politics of each of the Inspectors and Canvassers named in the list. The fraud consists in the fact that the canvassing of the vote is given entirely to the Democrats in very many of the wards, and in a large majority of the wards there are three Democratic Inspectors to one Republican, which gives the voting majority in the various Boards of Inspectors to the Democrats. The Committee adjourned without doing any further business of interest.

In this connection, it may be said that a meeting will shortly be held at the Academy of Music to express disapprobation at the unfairness of a majority of the Supervisors in the appointment of the Canvassers and Inspectors.

Franco-American Union Republican Club.

The Franco-American Club was formed on the 28th of September. Its headquarters are at the hotel No. 190 Greene-street. Its President is Mr. LOUIS ANDRE, and Secretary THEODORE DOUSSAINT. It held its first meeting last Friday, when the banner of the Club was flung to such breezes as Greene-street affords, and last night it held a second meeting. The room was gaily hung with American flags, which enwreathed themselves around the racy and peculiarly French pictures on the walls.

Mr. JOSEPH STRAUSS, Chairman of the Executive Committee, was called to the chair, in the absence of the President, and in an emphatic address urged upon those of his hearers who were entitled to naturalization papers and had not obtained them to do so at once, and vote at this solemn crisis of political affairs. The French of New-York, he said, belonged, almost to a man, to the Republican Party in principle, and should also be Republicans in action. Upon the issue of this election depended peace and prosperity at the South, or uncertainty, turmoil, and disorder. All should, then, vote for Grant who were able to do so.

Mr. STRAUSS was followed by Mr. CONSTANT in a similar earnest vein, and after short remarks by a few other gentlemen, the Club adjourned. The roll already numbers a hundred members, and at least three hundred more are expected before election day arrives. After that period the Club will become a society for mutual assistance. It has opened its career very encouragingly.

Fusion of Local Republican Organizations.

The old feud which has existed among local Republican organizations has been happily brought to a termination. Evidence of this fact was presented at a united meeting of the Executive Committees of three different Republican clubs, held at the corner of Twenty-third-street and Broadway last evening. It was convened in response to a call from Mr. ISAAC J. OLIVER, of the Union Republican Presidential Club, Mr. WILLIAM P. ESTERBROOK, of the Griswold and Cornell Central Campaign Club, and Gen. CHESTER A. ARTHUR, of the Central Grant Club, each of the gentlemen named being Chairman of the Executive Committee of their respective organizations. The attendance was large, and evinced the liveliest gratification over the harmonious gathering. Gen. ARTHUR was elected to preside, on motion of Mr. ESTERBROOK. Subsequently, Hon. CHARLES S. SPENCER announced that it was intended to have a series of six public meetings at the Cooper Institute, to be held under the auspices of the joint organizations, commencing on Thursday next, on which occasion addresses may be heard from Senators MORGAN and CONKLING, of this State. On the nights of the October and November elections, returns will be received on the platform direct by telegraph. After appointing Committees to perfect arrangements for these meetings, the Conferring Committees adjourned, subject to the call of the Chair.

The Democratic General Committee.

The Committee met at their Rooms, No. 9 Court-street, last evening, Mr. JAMES B. CRAIG, the President, in the chair. Mr. ROBERT FURRY made a few remarks in relation to the document written by Supervisor SCHOLES and issued in circular form. To this document was appended a call, he said, for an indignation meeting in relation to the action of the Democratic majority of the Board of Supervisors in the appointment of inspectors and canvassers of election. He thought Mr. SCHOLES was the last man who should call such a meeting, and said that he (Mr. FURRY) had sat with him in the Common Council, when he (SCHOLES) would resort to any falsehood for the sake of success, and acknowledged it. To show how false it is that there has been any wrong done the Republicans, he referred to some of the larger Democratic wards. In the Fourteenth Ward, he said, three-fourths of the voters are Democratic. The number of election officers in this ward is thirty-six, of which the Republicans were given 17. In the Twelfth Ward nine out of ten of the voters are Democrats, yet they have got 10 out of 24 of the officers of election. In the Ninth Ward three-fourths of the voters are Democratic, yet the Republicans have there 8 out of 24 officers of election. In the Eleventh Ward an actual majority of the Inspectors and Canvassers were given to the Republicans—22 out of 42. If any man denied that this was an unfair representation he must be poorly off for material. In conclusion he referred to the appointment of Poll clerks by the Police Commissioners, who never selected a Democrat except by mistake. If the document put forth by SCHOLES had originated with such men as Supervisor LITTLE or Gen. CROOKE, it might have some weight, but emanating from SCOLES it was hardly worth the paper it was written on. Even Republicans acknowledged that it was as fair a representation as they were entitled to considering the large Democrasic majorities.

A Committee of Conference was received from the Kings County Democratic Association asking the announcement of three Inspectors at the primaries, to guard against fraud. The Chairman (Mr. CRAIG) stated that it was beyond the power of the Committee to appoint the inspectors asked for, as they were all elected a year ago. The Kings County Association Committee withdrew after Mr. S. KURTZ, one of the number, had been catechized by Mr. HUGH MCLAUGHLIN as to his political record, when he stated that he had voted the Democratic National and State tickets for twelve years, but voted for the best men for local offices, and that last election he had voted for the entire local Republican ticket. The Committee was then, on motion, asked to withdraw.

It was then voted that the primaries for electing delegates to the Congressional, Assembly, City and County Conventions be held on Wednesday, Oct. 14, between 5 and 8 o'clock. The Congressional Convention, Second District, is fixed for the 24th inst., at 2 o'clock P. M., at B. NELSON's, Flatbush. The Third Congressional District Convention to meet at No. 9 Court-street on the 23d inst., at 7 P. M. The County Convention to be held at No. 9 Court-street on the 23d inst., at 12 o'clock M. And the City Convention at the same place and same day at 3 P. M.

The Committee then adjourned.

The Republicans of Orange.

The Republicans of East Orange, N. J., held a rousing meeting last evening at the Public School Rooms.

The "Grant Legion" of Orange paraded the neighborhood with torches, banners and music, and fired a salute amidst the utmost enthusiasm. During the evening the Glee Club sang campaign airs.

JOHN G. FORSTER, of Newark, was the speaker. In a masterly exhaustive speech of one hour and a half he "judged" the so-called Democratic Party, first, by its platform, from which he quoted extensively to the great amusement of his audience, especially the resolution in which it appeals to the intelligence and patriotism of the people to indorse its abominations. Second, the company it keeps. FORREST, WADE HAMPTON, and the whole horde of unrepentant rebels and their Copperhead allies. Third, its representative men. In this connexion "plausible HORATIO" and "blustering FRANK" were made to speak for themselves with telling effect. Altogether his speech was a complete success, and must have convinced any one on the fence who heard it of his duty.

Other meetings will be held weekly during the campaign, and earnest, persistent efforts made not only to secure the doubtful ones, but also to carry the war into the enemy's camp.

The Republicans of Montclair.

A most enthusiastic Grant and Colfax meeting was held in the wigwam at Montclair, N. J., Monday evening. Never before has this pleasant little mountain retreat witnessed such an outpouring of its inhabitants, or its verdant hills echoed such outbursts of patriotism and eloquence.

Addresses were made by Hon. J. HILL, Hon. J. H. WARWICK, of California, and Capt. A. S. CLOKE, one of SHERIDAN's riders.

Mr. WARWICK amused and entertained his audience with anecdote and repartee until he was interrupted by the Grant and Colfax Legions marching to the ground from Belleville, Bloomfield, Caldwell and other places.

The whole affair was a most brilliant one. Gen. HARRIS presided. The singing by the Montclair Glee Club, under the direction of Mr. TORREY, added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion.

Republican Meeting at Newark, N. J.

On Friday evening next there will be a mass meeting of the French citizens of Newark, at Greene-street Hall, under the auspices of the Radical Republican French Club. Messrs. ELIE CHARLIER, Principal of the New-York French Institute, A. PELLETIER, M. C. for the City of Paris, VICTOR FAIDER, LL.D., L. JOURDAIN, LL.D., Prof. CHS. VILLA, CONSTANT, the workingman, and other friends of the Union, will address the audience. Seats will be reserved for ladies, and music will be furnished by Reinhart's Band.

The Republicans of Patchogue, L. I.

On Monday evening a large and enthusiastic Republican meeting came off at Patchogue, L. I. Five hundred persons were present, which number included at least two hundred ladies. Some spirited campaign songs were excellently well sung. Appropriate addresses were delivered by Col. T. B. THORPE and G. F. CARMAN.

The Republicans of Camden.

The greatest Republican meeting of the campaign in West Jersey took place at Cooper's Point, Camden, last night. Letters were read from Hon. LEONARD MYERS, Senator SUMNER, Gov. NEWELL, and speeches made by Hon. JAMES SCOVELL, Col. E. C. MOSS and Hon. JOHN W. NEWLIN.

Democratic Assembly Nomination.

The Democratic delegates to the Sixth Assembly District of Hudson County, comprising Hudson City, City of Bergen, Greenville and Bayonne, met in Convention yesterday afternoon and renominated HARRY CLAY SMITH for Assembly from that district.

Meeting at East New-York.

Prof. T. G. GLAUBENSKLEE will address the Republicans of East New-York at the Turnhalle to-night. Other eminent speakers will also be present and take part in the proceedings.

Political Parade in New-Jersey.

The Grant Legions of Jersey City, Hoboken and vicinity will turn out this (Wednesday) evening, and proceed to Newark for the purpose of joining in the grand demonstration at that place.

POLITICAL TELEGRAMS.

Speaker Colfax in Eastern Indiana—Unbounded Enthusiasm of the People.

Special Dispatch to the New-York Times.

CAMBRIDGE CITY, Ind., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

Eastern Indiana has eclipsed the whole West to-day in spontaneous enthusiasm. Upon four days' notice, the most magnificent outpouring of the Grant and Colfax masses I ever saw are greeting Indiana's favorite, SCHUYLER COLFAX. The City of Cambridge is one blaze of glory. The decorations are lavish. Grand arches span the principal thoroughfares; dwellings, business houses, public buildings—everything is decorated with bunting, and gleaming with words of welcome to the next Vice-President. Such a generous and fervent outburst of patriotic love was never seen in Indiana before. Cambridge is in Wayne County, and in Mr. JULIAN's district—the Ninth. Appearing before the vast concourse of people, Mr. COLFAX was greeted with nine vociferous cheers. The enthusiasm was unbounded. Whole acres of people listened attentively to Mr. COLFAX's address. The assemblage to-day is estimated at 20,000 or 30,000.

Mr. COLFAX began by referring, in terms of praise, to Congressman JULIAN, and urged a united vote for him in October. He regarded Mr. JULIAN as true and trustworthy. He then referred to the glorious record of the Republican Party in strains of eloquence remarkable for their depth of pathos and earnestness of feeling. He spoke of the brave boys around whom a million patriotic mothers and sisters had girded swords and sent them to battle, to die in defence of liberty and the Union. The audience remembered the honored dead, and thousands were moved to tears. The spectacle beggars description. I could not overrate the picture. For an hour Mr. COLFAX spoke in a most eloquent manner. His faith in a glorious triumph next week is strong, and that we are sure to win in November, led by the hero of the age. The speech was grand, the meeting magnificent.

Democratic Meeting in Reading, Penn.—Letter from Gen. McClellan.

READING, Penn., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

A very large Democratic parade, mass meeting and torchlight procession took place here to-day and this evening. The parade this morning contained delegations from nearly every township in the county. The meeting was addressed by Hon. B. MARKLY BOYER, Hon. E. O. PERRIN, of New-York; J. H. REYNOLDS, of Lancaster; RICHARD T. MERRICK, of Washington, D. C.; J. V. MAYS and Dr. JULIUS KORN, of Philadelphia, and W. ROSENTHAL, of the Reading Post. The following letter from Gen. MCCLELLAN was read:

NEW-YORK, Wednesday, Oct. 2, 1868.

J. D. Davis Esq., Reading:

MY DEAR SIR: I have received your very kind letter of yesterday inviting me to visit Reading on the 6th inst. Engagements made necessary by my long absence will prevent my presence in Reading, as you desire. I do not think that you will be surprised to learn that I still adhere to a determination, long since arrived at, to take no further share in political life. In declining an invitation to preside over a Democratic meeting in this City on Monday next, I have taken occasion to declare my continued and earnest adherence to the Democratic cause.

With my best and most cordial wishes for the success of the party in your State, I am your sincere friend,

GEO. B. MCCLELLAN.

Republican Rally at Binghamton, N. Y.

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

A large Republican meeting was held in this city last night. There was a parade of the "Boys in Blue" and "Tanners." Lieut.-Gov. WOODFORD made an eloquent address at the Academy of Music. The building is large, but hundreds were unable to gain admission. It was the largest demonstration of the campaign in Broome County.

Large Republican Meeting in Hartford.

HARTFORD, Conn., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

A large Republican meeting was held at Music Hall, in this city, this evening, under the auspices of the Central Grant Club. Speeches were made by Hons. N. D. SPERRY and FRANCIS WAYLAND, and Major JOHN A. TIBBETTS and Mr. N. LANDON. Great enthusiasm was manifested.

Democratic Meeting in Troy.

TROY, N. Y., Tuesday, Oct. 6.

The Democratic mass meeting held here this evening was the largest political meeting ever held in this County. There were over 3,000 torch-bearers in line. Hon. MILES BEACH presided, and addresses were made by J. T. HOFFMAN and Mayor FELLOWS. HOFFMAN's reception was most enthusiastic.

BOARD OF HEALTH.

A Raid to be Made Upon City Bakers—Record of Marriages and Births in the Metropolitan District During August and September—Mortality Figures of the Past Week.

The Board met yesterday afternoon, Hon. G. B. LINCOLN presiding.

Counsel was directed to institute legal proceedings against eighty-two persons for violating the Tenement-house and other laws.

It was resolved that the Sanitary Superintendent be directed to investigate and report to the Board the quality of the various kinds of flour and other ingredients employed in making sale-bread, and the adulterations of the same, in the City of New-York. The same resolution directed Prof. CHANDLER, the Analytical Chemist of the Board, and Deputy Register STILES, to assist in the investigation.

Counsel was authorized to commence suit against Messrs. HALLIDAY & HILL, for burning shells within the City limits.

Dr. HARRIS submitted his report of life and death statistics, from which we extract as follows: Total number of persons married, in August, 1,730; in September, 1,466. Total number of births certified by physicians, in August, 546; in September, 790. In the week that ended on Saturday, the 3d inst., there were 472 deaths in New-York, and 196 in Brooklyn. This shows an increase of 18 deaths in the former and 3 in the latter city over the previous week. The increased number of fatal cases of inflammation of the lungs that occurred in connection with the sudden changes of temperature alone amounted to 16 in New-York and 6 in Brooklyn; and the number of deaths by pulmonary phthisis was increased by 17 in the former and 3 in the latter city.

Annual Conclave of Knights Templar.

The fifty-fifth annual conclave of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of this State was opened in due form at 11 o'clock yesterday morning in their temporary asylum, (Kane Lodge-rooms,) corner Twenty-second-street and Broadway. The R. E. Grand Commander JOHN A. LEFFERTS presided. The opening was conducted with the usual knightly ceremonies, prayer being made by the Grand Prelate, Rev. CHAS. H. PLATT.

Sir John A. Lefferts, R. E. Grand Commander; Sir Henry Clay Preston, V. E. Deputy Grand Commander; Sir Clinton F. Page, (acting,) E. Grand Generalissimo; Sir Robert N. Brown, E. Grand Captain-General; Sir Rev. Charles H. Platt, E. Grand Prelate; Sir Frank Stowell, E. Grand Senior Warden; Sir William B. Crandall, E. Grand Junior Warden; Sir John S. Perry, E. Grand Treasurer; Sir Robert Macy, E. Grand Recorder; Sir Mead Belden, E. Grand Standard Bearer; Sir A. E. Lytle, E. Grand Sword Bearer; Sir James A. Reed, E. Grand Warden; Sir Richard England, E. Grand Sentinel; Sir Joseph B. Chaffee, E. Grand Lecturer.

There was also a full representation of the Past Grand Officers and Past Commanders as well as a general attendance of the Council Officers of the different commanderies in the State of New-York.

On motion of Sir JOS. B. CHAFFEE the courtesies of the Grand Commandery were extended to all visiting Sir Knights during the present session.

The reading of the minutes of the last annual conclave was, on motion, dispensed with, printed copies having been previously distributed.

The appointment of the standing Committees was made by the R. E. Grand Commander.

Sir JOHN A. LEFFERTS then delivered his annual address as the presiding Grand Officer, and on motion of Sir HENRY CLAY PRESTON it was resolved that it be entered on the minutes and referred to a special committee of three, consisting of Sir H. C. PRESTON, Sir PEARSON MUNDAY and Sir JNO. S. PERRY, for the purpose of dividing and referring the subjects to the appropriate committees.

The Grand Recorder's report was then presented and referred to the Committee on Books and Accounts. The report stated that the amounts of money received by the Grand Recorder and paid into the hands of the Grand Treasurer, were the largest ever received by the Grand Commandery for dues, etc., consequently showing a healthy and prosperous condition of the different subordinate Commanderies in the State of New-York.

The Grand Treasurer presented the following report on the finances, which which was was also referred to the above Committee:

Amount on hand at last report, Oct. 1, 1867	$3,194 53
Amount received from Grand Recorder, Oct. 2, 1867	3,076 25
One year's interest on $3,500	210 00
Total	$6,480 78
Dispersed as per vouchers	2,162 80
Balance now on hand	$4,317 98

(Signed,) JOHN S. PERRY, Grand Treasurer.

The presentation of three Past Grand Commanders Jewels to Sir EZRA J. BARNUM, Sir WM. E. LATHROP and Sir JOHN SIMONS, the three oldest Past Grand Commanders in this State, was then made by the R. E. Grand Commander, through Sir Rev. CHARLES H. PLATT, the Grand Prelate, he being deputized to perform that duty, which he did in a few pleasing and pertinent remarks. The replies from the different recipients were fraught with a great deal of interest in the expression of their feelings and the unusually interesting statistics briefly alluded to by them about the earlier days of the Grand Commandery in this State. The jewels are of the pattern approved and adopted at the fifty-third annual conclave, and are made of gold, with these words engraved in the circle: "Grand Commandery, State of New-York."

On motion of Sir H. C. PRESTON, the hours of meeting for each day were made at 10 o'clock A. M. and 3 o'clock P. M.

The action on the new Statutes and Regulations was, on motion of Sir JOHN W. SIMONS, made the special order for 3:30 o'clock P. M.

Sir ALEX. B. MOTT, on behalf of the different Commanderies in this City, invited the Grand Commandery to be present at the grand dinner and reception to be given in their honor at the Metropolitan Hotel this evening, which was, on motion, courteously accepted.

Sir THOMAS C. CASSIDY presented some questions for consideration in relation to funeral ceremonies of Knights Templar, and moved their reference to the Committee on Statutes and Regulations, which was so referred.

Labors were then suspended until 3 o'clock P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

At three o'clock the labors of the Grand Commandery were resumed, Sir JOHN A. LEFFERTS, R. E. Grand Commander, in the chair.

The entire afternoon session was occupied with labor upon the new code of Statutes and Regulations presented in the morning by Sir JOHN W. SIMONS for their consideration.

At 6 o'clock P. M., labor was again suspended until 10 o'clock this morning.

ANOTHER STABBING AFFRAY.—Yesterday morning, at an early hour, a man named FREDERICK HASS, residing at No. 74 Warren-street, Newark, was very severely but not dangerously stabbed by a man as yet unknown. Mr. HASS and wife had been at Dramatic Hall, and upon leaving went into a saloon in Market-street, where they remained until about 3 o'clock A. M. About this time some of the participants in the New-York procession entered the place and a political discussion arose, in which Mr. HASS took part, and which was terminated by a member of the Guards in uniform drawing a knife and making a deadly assault. Mr. HASS received a cut in the side about eight inches in length, a severe cut in the cheeck, and had his hands considerably lacerated in efforts to protect himself. The assailant made his escape.

THREE BURGLARS ARRESTED.—About 5:30 o'clock last evening, Detective WOOLSEY, of the Broadway Squad, noticed three men, named GEORGE DAVIS, FREDERICK WALLER, and MARCUS RAYMOND, acting in a suspicious manner, so he followed them. The gang stopped in front of No. 264 Broadway, occupied as a glove store, and as they were evidently intending to commit a burglary, the detective called Officers SUTTON and FONTONELLE, and had the three arrested. In their possession were found two large bags, a jimmy, and three skeleton keys, and the prisoners were locked up at Police Headquarters.

FIRES YESTERDAY.—At 4:30 o'clock a fire occurred on the second floor of No. 5 Chatham-street, occupied by THOMPSON & CO., manufacturers of Grecian bends and chignons, the flames originating from a candle being upset. Damage slight, no insurance ....At 4:50 P. M., an awning took fire at No. 100 Bowery, supposed to have been caused by a lighted match thrown from a second story window. The premises are occupied by NAUMANN, COOK & SONS, who sustained a loss of $25.

Card from Mr. Work.

NEW YORK, Saturday, Oct. 3.

To the Editor of the New-York Times:

I see in your report of the proceedings of the Supreme Court that I am named as one of the defendants in the case of JOHN MORRISSEY against Z. E. SIMMONS and others. I am not now, nor have I ever been in any way, either directly or indirectly, connected with the lottery business in this City or elsewhere, other than having in my business as a stockbroker taken a certificate of what purports to be four (4) shares of the stock of the Paducah Lottery, valued at $3,000, and chartered by the State of Kentucky, and standing in the name of the "Bearer."

Respectfully yours, FRANK WORK.

Gen. Hancock's Illness.

The New-Orleans Crescent publishes the following extract from a private letter from Gen. HANCOCK to a friend in that city:

CARONDELET, Mo., Sept. 20, 1868.

I am in my bed, where I have been for two weeks. I was sick for some time before, and indeed have not felt well for a long time. An ulcer has been forming in my leg, about my old wound, and it has only opened within the past few days. The doctor still tells me it will be a month before I can travel. I hope for better things, however. I feel much better. * * * I have not been able to reply to the resolutions of the Hancock Club, owing to my illness, and shall not be able to do so until I get well.

Late Intelligence from Hayti.

The following letter has been received here, dated on board the Haytian corvette Alexander Petion, at Port-au-Prince, Sept. 29, 1868:

"The Alexander Petion had an engagement to-day at Petit Goave with the batteries and the corvettes Sylvian and Liberté. The Liberté was set on fire and blown up. The Sylvian was taken as a prize, but sunk before she was got into shallow water, and many of the crew drowned; also, two of the prize crew and a Haytian General. The engagement was kept up for some time after the disaster to the corvettes. Two of the prisoners were killed on board the Petion by a shell. After the Petion ceased firing and hauled off, the troops on shore stormed and took the place. The engagement lasted five hours. President SALNAVE was on board. The enemy fired pretty well, but fortunately did little damage. The next place to be taken will probably be St. Marks."

WOOL WANTED IN THE WEST.—Few people who have not investigated the subject, are aware of the quantity of wool required to supply the manufactories of the West, but when they are informed that there are at the present time 557 woolen mills in Ohio, Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin, Iowa and Minnesota, with a capital of $5,500,000, they can then form some estimate of the amount of wool required to keep these mills running. Eastern manufacturers already begin to realize that there is a home market for a portion of the Western wool. The large receipts from California have failed to supply the diminished amount of Western wool reaching Eastern markets, and this decrease will be still more in time to come, should people establish and foster home manufactures as their interests demand.—Springfield (Ill.) Journal, Oct. 2.

Hereafter our popular make of fine dress SHIRTS will be retailed at VAIL's, No. 141 Fulton-st., near Broadway, at the following prices per dozen: "New-York Mills," $32; "Wamsutta," $29; "Forestdale," $27; "Londsdale," $24; "Hope," $21. Also a full line of Men's Furnishings, at prices never seen at retail in this City. P. F. SMITH & CO., importers and manufacturers, No. 22 White-st., retail at No. 141 Fulton-st. only. Orders for shirts or other goods by mail will be sent "C. O. D.," payable only on examination and approval. Send size of collar and length of sleeve, and you will get a perfect fit.—Advertisement.

ABOUT CORNS.—An old merchant of this City who has suffered everything with corns for the last thirty years, has found a remedy at last, which, owing to its simplicity, will make every one laugh to hear it. Its cost is three cents at any druggists, and is a positive, total and permanent cure for the worst corns imaginable. AGENTS WANTED.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF HORACE GREELEY.

"RECOLLECTIONS OF A BUSY LIFE."

A SUPERB OCTAVO OF OVER 600 PAGES. ILLUSTRATED.

Mr. Greeley has said of it: "I shall never write anything else into which I shall put so much of myself, my experiences, notions, convictions and modes of thought, as these Recollections. I give, with small reserve, my mental history."

The book embraces views of early New-England settlement, the author's own youthful life, education, apprenticeship, adventures, professional and political reminiscences, experiences in Congress, newspaper life in New-York, and much useful talk about farms and farming. It is a peculiarly entertaining and valuable work; a look behind the scenes during an important period of the country's history.

Price, in ex. cloth, $3 50; in sheep, $4 50; in half morocco, $5.

THE NATIONAL QUARTERLY REVIEW.—Autumn number contains articles on Epidemics, Male and Female Colleges, Comets, Insurance, &c., &c. The criticisms will be found quite as searching as usual. The pretensions of various Insurance Companies, and their peculiar mode of manufacturing "assets" are put to the test. All who hold or want policies on Life and Property should read this exposition. The "money operations" of our office-holders also receive due attention, without any consideration for party, clique, or champion. None who have sons, daughters or wards to educate should fail to read the article on Colleges and Seminaries. Supscription $5 a year, in advance. A specimen copy sent by editor to any part of the United States or British America, on receipt of $1 25. General Agents, American News Co. EDW. I. MISCELLANEOUS.

DR. SCHENCK, THE LUNG DOCTOR, PROPRIETOR OF SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEA-WEED TONIC, MANDRAKE PILLS, and the inventor of SCHENCK'S RESPIROMETER, the only instrument that can to a certainty detect the slightest murmur of the respiratory organs. This is of great importance to the consumptive. It requires constant and long practice to become familiar with every sound or rattling of a diseased bronchial tube. Patients come to Dr. SCHENCK to get examined that have been examined by their family physician, who told them that one lung was almost gone; when, by a close examination with the Respirometer, it is often found that it is an affection of the bronchial tube: and, by getting a healthy action of the liver and tone to the stomach, the sufferer is soon restored to health. Sometimes medicine that will stop a cough is certain death to the patient. It locks up the liver, stops the circulation of the blood, hemorrhage follows, and in fact, stopping the action of the very organs that caused the cough.

Liver complaint and dyspepsia are the causes of two thirds of the cases of consumption. At this season many are complaining with dull pain in the side, bowels sometimes costive, and sometimes too loose, tongue coated, pain in the shoulder-blade, feeling sometimes very restless, and at other times drowsy; everything that is eaten lies heavy on the stomach, acidity, belching up wind. While thus complaining, let them take a heavy cold, and before they get rid of it, another, then is the time to know what to do. Stop that cough suddenly, and the lungs, liver and stomach are all put into an inactive state, and, before the patient is aware of his situation, the lungs are a mass of sores, and death must soon follow.

SCHENCK'S "Pulmonic Syrup" is an expectorant which does not contain any opium, nor anything calculated to check a cough suddenly, but when assisted by the Sea-weed Tonic, to improve the tone of the stomach, and restore a healthy action of the digestive organs, with the Mandrake Pills, to bring about a healthy action of the liver. When these are taken together, or as indicated, they are sure to bring the constitution back to a healthy state, when affected by any of the above diseases. Dr. SCHENCK believes that too much cannot be said in favor of the curative powers of the Mandrake Pills. Their action is peculiar, but certain in all cases of torpid bowels or diseased liver, which is too frequently the primary cause of the broken-down condition of the whole system, and often passes under the name of consumption, when that disease does not exist at all, or if it does, is readily curable by a proper attention to restoring a healthy action of the stomach, liver, and other functions whose duty it is to eliminate and carry off the unhealthy deposits which clog and render sluggish the wheels of the animal organism.

Dr. SCHENCK will be professionally at No. 32 Bond-st., New-York, on Tuesday, Oct. 13, and at No. 35 Hanover-st., Boston, on Wednesday, Oct. 14. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination of the lungs with his Respirometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M. The hours for this visit to New-York are unavoidably changed from 12 M. to 4 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Sea-weed Tonic each $4 50 per bottle, or $7 50 a half dozen; Mandrake Pills, 25 cents per box. A full supply of Dr. SCHENCK'S medicines for sale at all times at his rooms.

Also, for sale by all druggists and dealers.

THAT IRON IS VALUABLE AS A MEDICINE has long been known; but it is only since its preparation in the particular form of Peruvian Syrup that its full power over disease has been brought to light. Its effect in cases of dyspepsia and debility is most salutary.

DR. DILLENBACK
ON THE TREATMENT OF CHRONIC CATARRH.

The course pursued by us in our treatment of this most distressing and loathsome disease, is to remove the hardened and depraved secretions which so readily accumulate and obstruct the nasal passages, by means of a small showering syringe several times during the day. These applications are rendered disinfectant, alterative or astringent, as the varying conditions of the case may require. They are unattended with pain; even children submit to them without discomfort or inconvenience. And combined with these measures the patient is required to inhale by means of an atomizer or otherwise a "Medicated Vapor" three or four times a day, and thus every portion of the diseased membrane is brought in reach of medication, and the diseased organs in a comparatively short time are restored to a normal and healthy condition. By way of illustration the attention of the reader is called to the following extracts of a letter from a gentleman whose statements are worthy of consideration:

WOBURN, Mass., Sept. 20, 1868.

DR. DILLENBACK—Dear Sir: I had been afflicted with catarrh in my head for six years. The discharges consisted of thick yellow matter, very profuse and frequently so offensive as to make me really loathe myself. The disease had progressed so far that I had lost both smell and taste. Under these circumstances my general health became impaired, followed by a severe cough and expectoration. By the application of your remedies I have been entirely cured and without doubt saved from a consumptive's grave. Yours, &c.,

D. F. MURDOCK.

Dr. DILLENBACK can be consulted at his New-York office, No. 860 Broadway, corner 17th-st. and Union-square, on THURSDAY and FRIDAY, the 8th and 9th of October. Call early, as numbers failed to get attention last week on account of the lateness of the hour.

ST. LOUIS AND IRON MOUNTAIN RAILROAD COMPANY'S SEVEN PER CENT. FIRST MORTGAGE BONDS, FEBRUARY AND AUGUST COUPONS.

The earnings of the completed road to Pilot Knob are now more than the interest on the entire mortgage of $4,000,000. Over $8,000,000 have been spent on the property, and not over $2,000,000 of bonds issued thus far. The constantly increasing traffic of carrying ore, with the prospect of controlling all the travel from St. Louis to the Southern States, insures an enormous revenue. The Directors own 8-10ths of the stock for investment, and are interested to enrich the property as well as to economize its expenses.

THOS. ALLEN, President, St. Louis, Mo.

We, the undersigned, cordially recommend these 7 per cent. mortgage bonds of the St. Louis and Iron Mountain Railroad as good security. The revenue of the road will be large, and the administration of the affairs of the Company is in capable and experienced hands, and is entitled to the greatest confidence of the public.

James S. Thomas, Mayor of St. Louis; John J. Roe, President St. Louis Chamber of Commerce; E. W. Fox, President St. Louis Board of Trade; Barton Bates, President North Missouri Railroad; J. H. Britton, President National Bank of the State of Missouri; Wm. L. Ewing, President of the Mer. N. B. of St. Louis; Geo. H. Rea, President Second Nat. Bank of St. Louis; Jas. B. Eads, Chief Eng. of St. Louis an Ill. Bridge Co.; Geo. W. Taylor, President Pacific Railroad, (of Mo.); John R. Lionberger, President T. N. Bank, St. Louis.

PUBLIC NOTICES.

SUPREME COURT.—IN THE MATTER OF the application of the MAYOR, ALDERMEN and COMMONALTY of the City of New-York, relative to opening One Hundred and Fourteenth-street, from Eighth-avenue to the Hudson River, in the City of New-York.—We, the undersigned, Commissioners of Estimate and Assessment in the above-entitled matter, hereby give notice to the owner, or owners, occupant, or occupants, of all houses and lots, and improved or unimproved lands affected thereby, and to all others whom it may concern, to wit:

First, That we have completed our estimate and assessment, and that all persons interested in these proceedings, or in any of the lands affected thereby, and who may be opposed to the same, do present their objections in writing, duly verified, to John Nesbit, Esq., our Chairman, at the office of the Commissioners, No. 82 Nassau-street, (Room No. 12,) in this City, on or before the 17th day of October, 1868, and that we, the said Commissioners, will hear parties so objecting within the ten week days, next after the said 17th day of October, 1868, and for that purpose will be in attendance at our said office on each of said ten days at 12 o'clock M.

Second, That the abstract of the said estimate and assessment, together with our maps, and also the affidavits, estimates, and other documents, which were used by us, in making our report, have been deposited in the Street Commissioner's Office, in the City of New-York, there to remain until the 29th day of October, 1868.

Third, That the limits embraced by the assessment aforesaid are as follows, to wit: All those lots, pieces or parcels of land, bounded on the north by the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fourteenth-street and One Hundred and Fifteenth-street; on the south by the centre line of the block between One Hundred and Fourteenth-street and One Hundred and Thirteenth-street; on the east by the centre line of the Eighth-avenue, and on the west by the Hudson River.

Fourth, That our report herein will be presented to the Supreme Court of the State of New-York, at a special term thereof, to be held at the City Hall, in the City of New-York, on the second day of November, 1868, at the opening of the Court on that day, and that then and there, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard thereon, a motion will be made that the said report be confirmed.

Terrible Murder at Aspinwall—The Superintendent of the Panama Railroad Company Shot Dead by an Assistant Engineer—Subsequent Suicide of the Murderer—Local Intelligence.

From Our Own Correspondent.

PANAMA, Monday, Sept. 28, 1868.

The mails of the Ocean Queen take to New-York a melancholy tale of murder and suicide. On the morning of the 24th inst., Mr. JAMES L. BALDWIN, Assistant Engineer on the Panama Railroad, for a fancied grievance against Mr. WILLIAM PARKER, Superintendent of the road, shot the latter, who only survived the wound received twenty-five minutes. The main points in this terrible tragedy were given to us in telegrams a few minutes after the commission of the deed, and simply state that shortly after 7 o'clock in the morning Mr. BALDWIN entered Mr. PARKER's office, and without a word of warning shot him down and then placed the revolver against his own head, and having fired fell mortally wounded.

In the month of March last Mr. PARKER wrote Mr. BALDWIN, who was confined to his house at the time by sickness, a short note on business, in which he frankly asked Mr. BALDWIN if he was not afraid that his illness was caused by a too free use of liquor. As soon afterward as Mr. BALDWIN was able to go out he entered the cottage of Mr. PARKER, and, in the presence of his family, insulted him in the grossest language. An apology was demanded from Mr. BALDWIN for this language, on pain of dismissal from the employ of the Company, and on Mr. PARKER's explaining that he meant nothing but kindness in his intimation Mr. BALDWIN apologized, and everything seemed to go on smoothly again. But, a few persons knew that Mr. BALDWIN, from the frequent threats and expressions he was in the habit of making against Mr. PARKER, still harbored enmity toward him, and warned Mr. PARKER to be on his guard against violence.

The immediate cause of the murder was this: Mr. PARKER, being in very delicate health, caused by the immense amount of mental labor his various duties exacted, had made arrangements to visit California in company with his wife and daughter, who had just arrived at Aspinwall from New-York to bear him company. To relieve him, the Company had sent out Mr. DUBOIS. As soon as he knew this, considering himself entitled to the position, Mr. BALDWIN became furious, drank more than ever, and carried about him always a pair of pistols and a large English riding-whip, uttering threats occasionally that he would soon have an opportunity of using them. These threats having been communicated by Mr. TURNER, Acting Chief Engineer of the road, to a friend in Aspinwall, the latter sent for Mr. PARKER to come to his office, when he was fully warned of the danger he was in. Mr. PARKER admitted that danger existed, but remarked that he should be very careful, and requested the gentleman to endeavor to get Mr. BALDWIN to take a trip that day on the steamer to New-York, as Mr. BALDWIN had expressed some intentions of doing so.

LOCAL INTELLIGENCE.

J. W. CALDWELL, Esq., lately appointed United States Minister Resident at Ecuador, arrived here on the last steamer, and is staying at the Grand Hotel for a fortnight.

Gen. FALCON, the lately deposed President of Venezuela, with his aid, Gen. PACHUM, are at Aspinwall, on their way to France.

The American whaling bark Army, of Nantucket, is in this bay with 660 barrels of oil to be shipped over the railroad to New-York.

Panama is still a good deal disturbed by reported intentions of revolution, in and out of the city. A commission has been sent to the interior of the State to endeavor to accommodate matters with those who are still opposing with arms the new Government.

The United States sloop-of-war Cyane is at Panama, and the gunboat Saco at Aspinwall.

SOUTH AMERICA.

We have no further news from South America. The official estimate of deaths by the late earthquake in Ecuador is 43,000. In Chili and Peru the deaths from the same cause are estimated at 2,000—45,000 in all.

LOUISIANA.

The Political Situation—The Antagonism of Races—Gov. Warmouth's Vetoes.

From Our Own Correspondent.

NEW-ORLEANS, Sunday, Sept. 27, 1868.

Our political divisions have resolved themselves into a separation of the white and colored races. The processions show this perhaps more conclusively than anything else. There are about as many white men commanding and marching with the blacks, as there are colored men marching with the whites. In either case the races march in separate ranks. It is so you know even in the army of the United States; the colored troops are organized into separate regiments. Still, everything is orderly and under discipline among the whites. They are conscious of the responsibilities resting on them, and anxious to preserve the peace, if for no other reason lest it should react against them at the North. It is not to be expected that the colored people, to whom this sort of thing is new, should control themselves so well. They regard this political difference as involving their freedom. They cannot conceive the distinction between the right to vote and serve on juries, and an equal social intercourse.

Yet you know that the principle upon which American government and society was founded is the right of every man to worship or not worship God as he chooses, and to keep such company as may suit him, and those with whom he associates. The whole South is perfectly content to guarantee the colored race their freedom by any muniments they may propose. They must, however, make separate schools, churches, and places of social resort. That is the case here now. The colored schools are well taught and well filled. The colored churches are open and protected. You may find numerous colored cabarets and restaurants, in which darkies with long skirts, and heads shaven as close as Dervishes, smoke cigars, talk slang and politics, or play cards and drink cocktails just as their white exemplars do elsewhere. They have moreover their own balls, gaming houses, hotels, barber shops, and other places of social resort. No one molests them in their right to do so. Every one is glad to see them contented. Why then should any desire to compel the association of whites and blacks, when the consequences will be so serious to each?

AN EXAMPLE.

You know that the School bill which proposed a communion at the schools has been defeated. Within the week past the Social Equality bill passed the Legislature, and was presented to the Governor for his signature. He has chosen to veto the bill. Pending this signature, an act of violence was committed which is attributable solely to the prejudice of races. A mulatto came into the French market and sat down at a coffee stand, at which a Frenchman was seated. The result you will read in the deposition of a woman of color, which I have carefully translated and have italicised.

"Mme. Emilie Jacobs, (colored) testified in French: She lived on the street of the Elysian Fields, between Crapo and Greatmen streets; this morning, when I was at the market, Mr. Edward (Faure) came to a table and demanded a cup of coffee, of whom I do not know, but the man sprung up and said, 'this stand is not for negroes;' it was a white man with black moustaches; I would know him if I should see him; the black man answered, 'If I am a nigger my money is not a nigger;' the white man rose and said to him, 'Stand back, if you advance I will shoot you;' the colored man advanced, the white man said, 'You —— of a mulatto, advance and I will shoot;' Edward (man of color) advanced, and the white man drew a pistol from his pocket on the left side and fired; I did not see that the colored man was armed, nor did I see him strike; after the shot Edward ran to the first market and fell; I saw no Police officer near at the time; the other man, after having fired, ran on the side of St. Philip-street; I do not know him, but should recognize him if I should see him."

Now, whatsoever may be the decision of the jury when this case shall come to be tried, it is very plain that the shooting was caused by the claim of a colored man to sit down at a licensed place of resort, by the side of a white man. In this case the murderer was not a Southern white man maddened with drink, puffed up with pride, and exasperated by the insolence of a former serf. GUERRIER was a Frenchman; he was cool, sober; he did this act deliberately, in open market, and at risk of his life. The whole foreign population, who have never taken interest in American politics—who have neither been Confederates nor Federalists, but have, in thousands of cases plead a foreign allegiance to avoid either—are all in these color processions. Their women and children decorate and cheer them. Why is this? There is a prejudice—if you give it even so mild a name—of all races and nationalities against the negro. There is a fear here of murder, rapine and the torch, from negro domination. If this country were to-morrow treated as that rebellious Protestant palatinate some centuries since; if it were depopulated as if by Genghis, or transplanted as the people of Poland, they would still carry with them that pride of race which used to be the boast of the Anglo-Saxon. Do not then blame the people of the South that they deny the intimacy of the family and social circle to any save those who are personally acceptable. They obey the Federal Government; they rely upon the national flag as their protector; they cheer the Federal soldiers and fraternize with them. The Federal soldiers participate in this pride of race. They neither go to colored restaurants nor do they associate on social terms with the negroes. They do not even march in the same ranks with colored soldiers, nor does the Government compel them to do so. This case of unlawful shooting is precisely the result which the Social Equality bill presents. The white race will not tolerate compulsory association. Let these people, like all others, adjust their social relations. Voluntarily, the whites employ, talk and associate with negroes. They ride with them in the cars, and in various domestic capacities associate with them precisely as you do with your cook and ostler. There are the kindest and most confidential relations among them, because each race is indispensable to the other. Why not leave this then to adjust itself? There need be no threats made, but legal and compulsory amalgamation can never be executed.

THE VETO OF GOV. WARMOUTH.

The status of Gov. WARMOUTH and of those who, like himself, came to this conquered country on adventure of promotion and profit, is peculiar. They rely upon the mass of the colored people for support. They have legislated with all the arts of party to disfranchise; and disable and disarm the white population. This cuts them off from the sympathies of their political antagonists, while the dread and detestation of negro domination natural to our whole white population, has ostracised them from all social estimation. In the meantime they find themselves carried at the head of the colored column to the consummation of doctrines which they do not approve, and these doctrines are of consequence fatal to their own hopes, as to the prosperity and social existence of this people. These men have been thus compelled, by the ultra action of their followers, to take position on one or the other side of this line of color. The registration regulations are believed to disfranchise the property-holders and place the power of taxation and appropriation in the hands of non-taxpayers. The character of the fiscal legislation has been such as to destroy public confidence in the obligations of the State and city. Naturally this deprives the Government of the means to carry out its purposes. Even the daily subsistence of the public offices is precarious. And all this because the property-holder considers his life, liberty and property unsafe. He may be mistaken, but such is the fact. This state of opinion repels immigration, drives away business, and threatens to stop the State Government. At this time those who look alone to forcing the negro man into the first dress circle at the opera, or his daughter into the society of white girls at school, press upon Gov. WARMOUTH the Social Equality bill. It is plainly an act of class legislation. It is supported by the black people and opposed by the whites. It has compelled the Governor in the last resort to side with the whites, as the colored majority in the Legislature have sided with the blacks. They have compelled him to take the side of a people with whom he differs radically in opinion, while he is obliged to unite with them in the defence of his race. You will receive herewith, and will, no doubt, publish his message. It is a calm and well-reasoned document. While the writer differs with it in some ethnological intimations it may contain, it is proper to say that it contains some advice to the colored people, and they will sooner or later act on it. W. M. B.

Brooklyn Board of Education.

A meeting of this Board was held last evening, the President, Dr. J. S. THORNE, in the chair. Mr. J. W. BULKLEY, the City Superintendent, sent in a communication, stating that a short time before the closing of the schools for the Summer vacation, the Chancellor of the New-York University called upon him and made proposals for the admission into the University of candidates from the public schools of Brooklyn on the basis of free scholarships. Mr. BULKLEY requested that the whole subject be referred to a committee appointed for the purpose of conferring with the Chancellor, and that the committee report the result of their conference to the Board. It was accordingly referred.

Mr. BURR, Chairman of the Finance Committee, reported that they had passed for payment all the bills referred to them at the last meeting, with the exception of the following bills of the Nassau Water Department for the supplies of water for the public schools during the years designated: 1864, $927 53; 1865, $1,079 21; 1866, $1,498 08; 1867, $1,520 82.

The Committee referred these bills back to the Board, on the ground that those for 1867 and 1868 were larger in proportion than had been charged, as per agreement, for the preceding years.

Mr. RHODES suggested that the sum of $5,000, which was in the treasury for water taxes, be paid toward the liquidation of the bills.

Mr. HUNTER expressed the hope that the Board would do nothing toward paying the bills, but let the Water Commissioners proceed to sell the school property, if they deemed such a course a proper one.

Mr. NORTHUP argued that this property could not be sold, as both the Water Board and Board of Education were branches of the City Government.

The subject was referred back to the Finance Committee with power, and the Board then adjourned.

Unitarian General Conference.

The General Conference of the Unitarian Church meets at 9:30 A. M. to-day at Irving Hall, and continues in session for three days. The usual reports concerning the progress of the Church and the institutions under its control will be submitted, but no measures of startling novelty for their government are likely to be proposed. The preliminary religious services were held last evening at Rev. Dr. OSGOOD's church, corner of Thirty-fourth-street and Fourth-avenue. The building was filled by a large and interested audience. Rev. Dr. OSGOOD conducted the services, and the sermon was preached by Rev. Dr. HENRY W. BELLOWS. His text was from the 19th, 20th, 21st and 22d verses of Second Ephesians. He dwelt at great length upon the mission, interests and duties of the Unitarian Church, advising that the too great license which prevails among the liberal Christians be curbed, and that a Unitarian creed be adopted and rigidly adhered to. He treated the claims of other denominations with great charity, and demanded tolerance from them for the Unitarian faith. It was an able discourse, to which no sort of justice can be done in so brief a report.

Medical School for Women.

A medical school for women has been formed in connection with the New-York Infirmary for Women and Children, No. 126 Second-avenue, long known as an excellent charity for the poor and as a centre for women students in New-York. This school will have the support and coöperation of many of our leading physicians. The teachers selected are all of high standing, and the course of study laid down is thorough and progressive, and we are glad to see that hygiene is made a prominent branch in the instruction. New-York offers greater facilities for medical study than any other city in the country, and a good school for women, where those who are willing to give the requisite time and pains can be thoroughly educated in their profession, is very much needed. The institution opens under excellent auspices.

Board of Excise.

The Board held a session yesterday afternoon, at 1 o'clock, President BOSWORTH occupying the chair. On recommendation of the Committee on Applications ninety-six new licenses were granted. The trial-calendar embraced nineteen cases of alleged violations of the law, which were passed upon as follows: License revoked—HUGH DANAHAN, No. 162 Clinton-street. Licenses continued—JAMES C. FEELY, No. 314 West-street; H. G. KUMMER, No. 149 Essex-street, and LOUIS HUNGERS, No. 137 Bleecker-street. Adjourned—JAS. D. MAHLSTADT, corner Broadway and Ninth-street, Brooklyn; JOSEPH LEAVEY, No. 258 Rivington-street; JACOB DAVY, No. 617 Sixth-avenue, and ISAAC ROSENBURG, corner Third-avenue and One hundred and Thirtieth-street. Adjournment until Tuesday next was then ordered.

Scholarships in the Cornell University.

The following named candidates for scholarships in the Cornell University, have been recommended by the joint committee of the Aldermen and Supervisors:

WILLIAM SABIN of School No. 26; MILLER A. SMITH, of the Polytechnic; WALTER SMITH; JOHN L. MOFFIT, of School No. 11; WM. A PORTER, of School No. 3; JOHN E. SPENCER, of School No. 3; MORRIS KELLOGG, of the Polytechnic.

The Ellen Hicks Murder.

Corporal FITZGERALD, who, it will be remembered, was to be executed on Friday next at White Plains for the murder of ELLEN HICKS, had his sentence commuted yesterday, by Gov. FENTON to imprisonment for life. He was removed to Sing Sing Prison.

GENERAL CITY NEWS.

THE NEW UNITED STATES POSTAGE STAMPS.—The new stamps for United States postage which are being prepared by the National Bank Note Company of this City are nearly ready, and will be issued in a very short time. We have been favored with a view of the designs for each stamp, which certainly do great credit to the artist, while the engraving is of a very superior description. The design for each stamp represents a shield surrounded by scroll-work, and bearing the words "U. S. Postage, —cents." For the two-cent. stamp the figure within the shield represents a post-boy at full speed; for the three-cent. stamp, a locomotive surrounded by "lightning lines;" for the five-cent. stamp, a head of WASHINGTON, (new;) for the ten-cent. stamp, the signing of the Declaration of Independence; for the twelve-cent. stamp, an ocean steamship; and for the thirty-cent. stamp, the surrender of Burgoyne. Twenty-four and ninety-cent. stamps will also be issued. The Department has approved all the designs prepared, and the Company will supply the stamps to it as soon as ready at the rate of one and a quarter millions per day.

RICHARD KIMMINS, for fourteen years an officer of the Supreme Court of this district, and well known as one of the founders of the Americus Club, died at his residence in this City, yesterday morning, after an illness of a few weeks. Mr. KIMMINS will be remembered by frequenters of the Courts as a most faithful and obliging official, by the members of the Americus Club as a kind, generous and genial companion, and by all who had the pleasure of an intimate acquaintance, as a man whose heart seemed to be in the right place. He was about 40 years of age and unmarried.

ACCIDENT ON THE HUDSON RIVER RAILROAD.—An accident occurred a day or two ago on the Hudson River Railroad, at Tivoli, Dutchess County, whereby PETER SWENSON or SWENSKA, a native of Stockholm, lost his leg. The injured man is now lying at the Dutchess Hotel, opposite the Tivoli Depot, and greatly desires to see his wife, whose name is ANNA MARIA, and who is believed to be living in New-York. The whole family arrived in this City by one of the ocean steamships only a few weeks ago.

FIRE IN GREENWICH-STREET.—At 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon, a fire occurred in the stable of MICHAEL DUFFY, undertaker, in rear of the premises No. 45 Greenwich-street. The flames gained the hay-loft and rendered the task of the firemen a difficult one. The flames were extinguished, however, with a loss of $400 on the building and $800 on stock, covered by insurance in city companies. The upper floors of No. 45 were slightly damaged, the occupants sustaining slight losses by water and smoke.

TEMPERANCE MEETING IN BROOKLYN.—On Sunday last a large temperance meeting was held at No. 166 Fulton-street, Brooklyn, under the charge of Washington Division, No. 4, Sons of Temperance. Mr. JONATHAN MASON was in the chair, and Mr. WM. GUHRAENER was Secretary. Messrs. ROWE, GLEASON and LATOUR made addresses. The last speaker announced that the Division would hold a meeting every Sunday evening through the Winter in the same hall.

CHURCH OF THE HOLY SEPULCHRE.—The ceremony of breaking ground for the new free Episcopal Church of the Holy Sepulchre, corner of Seventy-fourth-street and Fourth-avenue, Rev. J. TUTTLE SMITH, Rector, took place yesterday morning at 6:30 o'clock, in the presence of about fifty persons. The church is to be built of blue stone. Its size will be 44 by 102 feet, with tower and steeple 160 feet high. It will cost from $75,000 to $100,000, and will accommodate about 1,000 persons.

SOCIETY OF MECHANICS AND TRADESMEN.—This evening this well known and esteemed Society will meet at its rooms, No. 472 Broadway. Among important matters to come before its members is the question of founding reading rooms and libraries in different parts of the City for the benefit of apprentices. $5,000 were bequeathed by the late PETER LORRILLARD for this purpose. To this sum other philanthropists will add considerably, and the work be at once inaugurated.

NAVIGATION OF THE HUDSON RIVER.—Dr. AUGUSTUS K. GARDNER read an interesting paper last evening before the Historical Society on the early navigation of the Hudson River. The reading was well attended and thoroughly appreciated.

COLUMBIA COLLEGE LAW SCHOOL.—The eleventh annual term of this institution commences at No. 37 Lafayette-place to-day. The classes meet for organization at 4 o'clock P. M.

BRIEF ITEMS.—On Monday night JOHN DOWELL, of 445 West Twenty-fifth-street, was stabbed in the groin with an umbrella-wire by PATRICK CONDON, in University-place. DOWELL was sent to the Mount Sinai Hospital, and his assailant escaped arrest.... A female infant, aged two weeks, was found yesterday in the hallway of No. 172 Lewis-street.... THOMAS EATON, a cartman, fell from his truck in Hudson-street, and fractured a leg.... An unknown young man, aged 18, was run over in University-place on Monday night, by a truck driver named AUGUST HARTLEY, of No. 164 Rivington-street, and instantly killed. The remains were taken to the Morgue for inquest by Coroner FLYNN.

BROOKLYN NEWS.

LAW NEWS.—On Monday next the Circuit Court and Oyer and Terminer for Queens County will be held at the Court-house at Hempstead. There are 400 cases in which Mr. SLISS will appear against the liquor dealers of that county, but from present appearances most of them will have to lie over until the next term. There is quite a heavy criminal calendar, the principal of which will be the trial of MARTIN HALEY for the murder of GEORGE BROWN. This affair occurred at Astoria on the 5th of July last, and at the time occasioned much excitement. Mr. JOHN D. TOWNSEND, of New-York, will appear for the defence.

CHARGED WITH ARSON.—A man named JOHN BONNER was arrested on Monday night, on suspicion of having set fire to the carpenter-shop of JAMES BROWNE, corner of Broadway and DeKalb-avenue. He was seen, as alleged, to leave the shop shortly before the fire was discovered, and after the flames had been extinguished. He was secured and locked up to answer.

NEW-JERSEY.

HUDSON COUNTY COURT—CHARGE OF JUDGE BEDLE.—Yesterday was the commencement of the October Term of the Hudson County Courts, his Honor Judge BEDLE and Associate Judges RANDOLPH, BOHNSTEDT, STURGES and QUAIFE presiding. The civil business of the term comprises forty-one Supreme Court issues, eighty-three cases for argument in the Hudson Circuit, forty-two Justices' appeals and twenty-two jury appeals. In the charge to the Grand Jury Judge BEDLE remarked that there were only thirty-three cases of prisoners in jail awaiting their action, of which two were for homicide, with perhaps another to be added; three for robbery, two for rape, four for grand larceny, three for larceny from the person, one of perjury, one of breaking and entering, and other smaller cases. That was a pretty light list of jail cases; but it was owing to the action of the Quarter Sessions, under a law passed last Winter, giving that Court jurisdiction to try cases where the defendant waived indictment and a jury, and requested to be tried immediately. He alluded in terms of commendation to this practice of the Court of Sessions, and said it would greatly relieve the business of the terms. The Judge next referred to the recent appointment of a clerk to the Grand Jury, whose duties he explained to them and thus concluded: "Your examinations must necessarily be ex parte, and it will be for the Petty Jury and the Court to hear the evidence on both sides. Now, gentlemen, the Court deems it unnecessary, at this time, to make any special charge in regard to particular offences. Selected as you are from different parts of the county, and interested in its welfare, peace and good order, and representing to a very large extent its material interests, this Court cannot believe that you will fail to fully investigate all the alleged violations of our criminal law, and indict wherever a party should be indicted. For the time being, this duty devolves entirely upon you, and sad would it be for our State whenever the time shall arrive that our lives or property and the good order of our communities are not protected and safe in the keeping of the Grand Jury. A faithful administration of the law is our great dependence. The part you are to perform in that is most important, for without your action, crime must go unpunished." The Court then feelingly referred to the death of the late prosecutor, R. D. MCCLELLAND, and spoke of him as an honest and able officer, faithful in the discharge of his duty, and on whom the Court could always rely for candor and fairness. His place was filled by the appointment, by the Governor, of Mr. LYONS, whose learning and experience would be at their service.

RUFFIANS IN TROUBLE.—Yesterday forenoon, two young men, named PAT. FOLEY and THOMAS WHITE, were taken before Recorder MARTINDALE, of Jersey City, on a charge of assault and battery on ALBERT BUSHMAN, bar-tender at MYERS' restaurant, in Exchange-place, and also with smashing some crockery. The accused, with a companion, had been to see the great procession in New-York, and being drunk, the bar-tender declined to furnish them with refreshments, hence the assault and destruction of crockery ware. They were required to pay $10 damages, and were held for trial for assault and battery.

THE RECENT STABBING AFFRAY IN JERSEY CITY.—Chief of Police FOWLER, of Jersey City, last evening received information that JOHN RILEY, who was stabbed in four places in an affray in South Second-street on Sunday night, the 27th ultimo, was much worse yesterday afternoon than at any time since he received his injuries. It is supposed that inflammation has set in, and should that be so, his case is hopeless. THOMAS MARTIN, the alleged principal in the stabbing, is confined in the County Jail, THOMAS LEONARD, who was arrested as an accessory, is at large on bail.

ESSEX COUNTY COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—The trial of PATRICK BURNS, JOHN BOWDEN and JOHN BARRY, charged with assault and battery and robbery, was concluded in this Court yesterday afternoon. The jury found BARRY guilty on the first count; BOWDEN guilty of assault and battery and petit larceny, and BURNS guilty on the first count. The jury were of opinion also that the last defendant used the knife with which their victim was wounded.

BREVITIES.—Yesterday afternoon JOHN DONOVAN, aged 19 years, was arrested on a charge of stealing iron railroad chairs from the Erie Railway Company, near the depot in Jersey City. He was locked up for examination.... PETER LYNCH had the back of his head cut open by the explosion of a mortar while firing it off in Exchange-place, Jersey City, on Monday night.

CHARTER NOMINATIONS IN NEWARK.—Last evening the following charter nominations were made by the Republicans of Newark: Second Ward—For Alderman, JAMES PERRY; School Commissioner, JOHN B. WEEKS; Board of Excise, FRANK RICH. Third Ward—Alderman, WM. S. STAINSBY; School Commissioner, SAMUEL A. FARRAND; Board of Excise, CHARLES A. BEACH. Ninth Ward—Alderman, DANIEL BAKER.

FELL FROM A SCAFFOLD.—Yesterday afternoon a German named SWEETZERCOMB, while repairing his residence in Bank-street, Newark, fell from a scaffolding and was very severely bruised. He was attended by Dr. CROSS, city physician.

Money makes the man, so the many say; fashion makes the man, so many think; worth makes the man, so many believe. We can't or won't dispute but all are right. There is one thing certain—fashion makes the presentable man, and after he has prepared his garments of fashionable cut and style, where does he go for a Hat? Ask for KNOX the Hatter, No. 212 Broadway. KNOX can tell you.

DR. ROBERT HUNTER ON CATARRH.—NO. II.—Catarrh is a disease generally misunderstood. There are three distinct kinds of this disease, simple, scrofulous and specific. They all begin as an affection of the nose or "cold in the head," and thence spread downward to the throat and lungs. In some the progress is very rapid, but in others catarrh continues for years before the lungs become affected. Simple catarrh is the most common. It arises from repeated colds in those perfectly healthy, and is no more than a chronic inflammation of the mucous lining of the nose. Scrofulous catarrh, on the contrary, is chiefly found in those having delicate lungs, and who are naturally prone to tubercles. It is known by the greenish-yellow character of the matter discharged, which becomes at times offensive. Specific catarrh is what is known as "Ozena," and always indicates a bad state of the blood. All three forms of catarrh tend to set up disease of the lungs, and when neglected, generally end in consumption. But this is not the only danger. They weaken and often destroy the sense of smell and hearing, and frequently cause the destruction of bones and cartilages of the nose.

The treatment of Catarrh is governed by the kind of the disease. Applications to the nose by the catarrh syringe, nose washes, or fumigations are necessary in every case. Inhalations are generally required to guard the lungs, and always, if there is the least tendency to scrofula. In Ozena we must, in addition, restore the purity of the blood before any cure will take place.

From this it will be understood that Catarrh is never curable through the stomach, nor by any specific snuff or nostrum. Science and common sense indicate that the remedies must not only be directly applied to the diseased parts, but varied according to the form of the disease. To treat all cases alike is to fail, whereas every case is curable if properly treated.

Waltham Watches.

3-4 Plate 16 Size.

These celebrated Watches, the three-quarter plate, so called in distinction from the full plate, are most desirable for gentlemen's use made in this country. Having all the most recent improvements, they do not differ from the full plate in being reliable time-keepers, and the prices are much less than any similar watch of foreign manufacture.

We have a large assortment of the above in both Gold and Silver cases, and invite an examination from all who desire a really good watch.

AMERICAN CLOCKS.

We call the attention of Exporters and Dealers to our facilities for furnishing any grade or style of AMERICAN CLOCKS at the lowest Manufacturers' prices. We are sole agents in America for the E. N. WELCH MANUFACTURING COMPANY, the NEW-HAVEN CLOCK COMPANY, and the SETH THOMAS CLOCK COMPANY, who together make more than two-thirds of all the Clocks made in this country. We are also agents for the FINE BRONZE, IMITATION MARBLE and GOLD GILT MANTLE CLOCKS, manufactured by SETH THOMAS' SONS & CO. These Clocks have now been in market two years, and from their beauty and EXCELLENCE are steadily growing in favor. We invite all interested in the progress of American manufactures to examine them. In BEAUTY OF DESIGN and FINENESS OF FINISH they are equal to the French Clocks, and can be furnished at lower prices. The movements are made upon the French plan, have steel pinions, are finely polished, and the CLOCKS WE OFFER WILL RUN MORE SURELY AND CORRECTLY THAN THE FRENCH, while they have the qualities which have always made the French Clocks desirable, noiseless tick and a pleasant, clear-toned bell. THEY STRIKE THE HOURS AND HALF HOURS. Catalogues and Price Lists of all our patterns furnished the trade upon application.

HERNIA OR RUPTURE.

CANAJOHARIE, N. Y., Oct. 3, 1868.

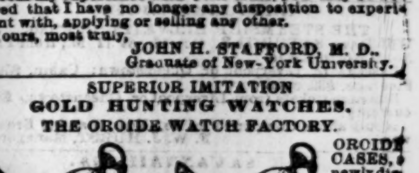
Messrs. Marsh & Co., No. 2 Vesey-st., New-York:

GENTS: Having of late noticed a controversy going on in the papers in regard to the utility of different kinds of trusses, I thought it no more than an act of justice to you that I send you my experience in the sale and application of trusses. I began selling and applying your trusses in the year 1856, and have continued to do so up to the present, during which time I have sold hundreds of the different varieties manufactured by you, and with general satisfaction to those purchasing and wearing them. I have, in a few instances, been persuaded to buy of others, (they offering their trusses very low,) but when I have sold them they have been almost invariably returned, and I have had to give yours in exchange, and the trusses that I now have on hand of other's make I would gladly sell at much less than cost. Not only have the trusses of your manufacture sold by me to farmers, merchants, laboring men, persons of both sexes and all ages, and infants of a few weeks, as well as others, been worn with comfort, enabling many to perform hard and difficult labor that they otherwise could not have done, but numbers have by their use been cured. Among the many interesting cases of cure by the use of your trusses sold by me, is that of Mr. Simon Cohen, of Spraker's Basin, New-York. Mr. Cohen's was a case of scrotal hernia; he was drawn to serve in the army at the first draft in this district, but was immediately discharged when the attention of the examining surgeon was called to the rupture. Soon after, I applied one of your trusses, and at a subsequent enrollment, the following year, Mr. Cohen was held by the same surgeon, he, after a very thorough examination, declaring the rupture cured. A younger brother of Mr. Cohen's was cured of a similar rupture the same year, and by the same kind of truss, and was also held by the surgeon, after a most rigid examination.

From my experience with your truss, you may be assured that I have no longer any disposition to experiment with, applying or selling any other.

Yours, most truly,
JOHN H. STAFFORD, M. D.,
Graduate of New-York University.

SUPERIOR IMITATION
GOLD HUNTING WATCHES.
THE OROIDE WATCH FACTORY.



OROIDE CASES, a newly discovered composition, known only to ourselves, precisely like gold in appearance, keeping its color as long as worn, and as well finished as the best gold ones. These watches are in hunting cases made at our own factory, from the best materials, of the latest and most approved styles, are jeweled and well finished, with a view to the best results in regard to wear and time. For appearance, durability and time they have never been equaled by watches costing five times as much. Each one warranted by special certificate to keep accurate time. Price $15. Gentlemen's and ladies' sizes. For this small sum any one can have an excellent watch, equal in appearance, and as good for time, as a gold one costing $150. We are now manufacturing Gents' and Ladies' Watches of extra fine finish and quality, price $20. These are equal in appearance and time to gold ones costing $200. Also Oroide Chains, as well made as those of gold, from $2 to $6. Goods sent to any part of the United States by express. Money need not be sent with the order, as the bills can be paid when the goods are delivered by the express. Customers must pay all the express charges.
